Edith Is Dallying In Ocean

Miami, Fla., Aug. 27 (AP)—Hurricane Edith, tabbed a "weak sister" by storm forecasters, dallied in the Atlantic today with no indication when, where or if she will strike the mainland.

The fifth tropical storm of the year and third this month was moving very slowly toward the north northwest with winds of bare hurricane force (75 MPH) in squalls near the center.

GALES EXTEND outward 150 miles to the north and east and 75 miles to the southwest.

At 5 a. m. (EST) the disturbance was centered near latitude 26.6 north, longitude 63.9 west, or about 990 miles east of Palm Beach, Fla.

It continued to move slowly toward the north northwest at about seven M.P.H. and its course was expected to remain in that general direction throughout most of today.

There was a possibility of some intensification.

THERE WAS NO significant intensification yesterday and Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster at Miami, said "that means she is a pretty weak sister."

Dunn said circulation is good but the cloud and squall pattern around it is not well defined.

"She is a pretty disorganized storm," he added.

Edith was born Wednesday about 700 miles east northeast of Puerto Rico and 1,600 miles east of Miami. She moved west northwestward for two days, then slowed to a walk and weakened.

YESTERDAY Edith crossed the path where Diane, a "wet" hurricane that flooded many areas in the northeastern United States, was plotted on Aug. 12. Diane zigzagged northward, then turned and crossed the North Carolina coast to cause an estimated $1,600,000,000 damage.

Hurricane Connie, which formed 2,200 miles southeast of Miami on Aug. 3, followed a more northwesterly course to move inland over North Carolina a week before Diane whirled ashore.

MEANWHILE, heavy rains pounded Mississippi and Louisiana coastal areas after a small

10 Spans Out, Others Affected by Hurricane

A committee of five members of the board of supervisors was named at a special "flood" meeting of the board Friday night to work with Acting County Superintendent of Highways Roland H. Green in an investigation of the flood damage, and to make recommendations to him of priority work which should be done to alleviate the present highway and bridge damage.

This special committee which includes Supervisors Fitzsimmons of Woodstock, Sprague of Wawarsing, Fowler of Marlborough, Eckert of Esopus, and Marshall of Rochester will be known as the Highway and Bridge committee and was directed by resolution to submit to the board at the next meeting "its report and recommendations for the alleviation of the aforesaid existing conditions."

APPOINTMENT of the committee followed a report by Superintendent Green in which he reported the result of a survey made by him of damage to highways and bridges in the county as a result of hurricane Diane.

Green reported he had made an inspection with members of the Rights of Way Committee from the board and said the damage was principally in Wawarsing, Rochester, Rosendale, Plattekill and Shawangunk.

He estimated the damage to highways and bridges in the counnty to be between $600,000 and $700,000.

A TOTAL OF 10 bridges have been destroyed, others have been damaged and there was one culvert in Hurley which was damaged to the extent that a bridge will have to be constructed to replace it.

In addition to the bridges totally destroyed, one was badly damaged. There are numerous washouts on town and county roads and a large number of culverts have been damaged.

Since the flood the Ulster County Highway Department has thrown all its men and equipment into the program of restoring routes to traffic and Green paid a high tribute to the men of his department who worked throughout the hours of the flood in rescue operations and aiding in the evacuation of stranded persons.

GREEN REPORTED men in a boat had been of great assistance in evacuating people at Rosendale and he highly commended one truck crew which backed a truck deep in swirling waters almost to the point of stalling in order to evacuate persons in danger.

In Rochester seven bridges were destroyed, four of which were county bridges and three were town bridges. Most of this damage was on the Millbrook-Stonykill watershed. In addition to those destroyed one was badly damaged but can be restored. He said this was a case where the water cut a new channel and damaged the abutment of the structure.

A bridge on the Kerhonkson-Samsonville road was damaged but it was a structure which would have had to be replaced at any rate. Also on the Alligerville-Accord road was a similar situation. The bridge on the Alligerville road adjacent to the canal where the Stonykill enters the Rondout creek would have been replaced shortly, he said, had it not been destroyed by the flood. However, he stressed the immediate need for action and the cost. Road shoulders in the Stonykill and Millbrook stream areas were badly damaged.

IN WAWARSING two county bridges were demolished. Both were on town roads but the bridges were maintained by the county. They are on the Vernooykill. At Spring Glen on 209 a section of the road leading to

Brooklyn Child Is Drowned

A 16-month-old boy vacationing with his parents at the Stony Pond Bungalow Colony, Walker Valley, drowned late Friday afternoon when he wandered from a cottage and fell into the pond.

He was Daniel Petrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Petrie of 19 Clifford Place, Brooklyn.

Ellenville State Police said he was pulled from the water about five or 10 minutes after he fell in by Joseph Melillo, 25, of Brooklyn. The cottage is located about 50 or 75 feet from the pond, troopers said.

THE CHILD was rushed to the Ellenville Fire Station where firemen and Ellenville tropers attempted to revive him.

About 7 p. m., an hour and a half after the boy fell in the water, he was pronounced dead by Dr. Andre Fiscella of Pine Bush. Firemen continued to work over the body for another two hours, Trooper N. G. Lecakes of the Ellenville Station reported.

Dr. Charles Rosenstock, coroner, issued a verdict of death due to accidental drowning.

The body was removed to Louck's Funeral Home, Ellenville.

Two Die in Oil Plant Blast

Fire Is Still Raging Three Hours Later

Whiting, Ind., Aug. 27 (AP)—A terrific blast at the Standard Oil Co. plant, one of the nation's biggest refineries, shook this northern Indiana town today.

At least two deaths resulted from the blast and fire which followed. An undetermined number of persons were reported injured but details were lacking.

A COMPANY spokesman said the explosion occurred at 6:15 a. m. (CDT) in a fluid hydroformer, where the quality of gasoline goes through in an improving process.

The terrific blast tossed huge sheets of steel two inches thick and up to more than 75 feet in length more than a block away from the plant. An automobile parked in front of a home a block from the plant was hurled into the house.

Windows were shattered throughout Whiting, a city of 10,000 population on the southern tip of Lake Michigan about 16 miles southeast of downtown Chicago.

ESTIMATES as to the number of person working in and around the hydroformer when it blew up varied from seven to 19.

One of the dead was Walter Rhea, 63, a foreman at the plant, who reportedly died of a heart attack following the blast.

A young boy, Richard Plewniak, was reported killed by flying debris that struck him near his home in adjacent East Chicago. His brother, whose first name was not determined immediately, was reported injured.

A company spokesman said the fire was still out of control at 9 a. m. (CDT), nearly three hours after the blast.

A GARY, IND., radio newsman reported from the scene that the fire was "threatening hundreds of drums of crude oil stockpiled near the hydroformer."

Charles Knoblock, Associated Press photographer who flew over the scene, reported that he could see a towering column of smoke when he took off from Meigs airport near Chicago's Loop.

"It looked like the plume of an atomic blast about 25,000 feet

World War 2 and Post-Korea veterans in Southeastern New York state whose homes were damaged or lost during hurricane Diane and the resulting flood may get assistance through the Veterans Administration Loan Guaranty Program, Leo V. Lanning, manager of the Albany Regional Office, announced today. The President has added this area as affected by the hurricane and flood and therefore a major disaster area.

Inquiry Set For Security Risk Cases

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's handling of "security risks"—a prospective 1956 campaign issue—is ticketed for a public inquiry next week by a special Senate subcommittee.

Chairman Johnston (D-S. C.) announced without elaboration yesterday the Monday-through-Thursday hearings would cover 11 cases, including the controversial treatment of Wolf Ladejinsky and Abraham Chasanow.

LADEJINSKY is the Russian-born land reform specialist who was fired by Secretary of Agriculture Benson as a security risk last December and hired with full security clearance by the Foreign Operations Administration in January. He now holds a top U. S. foreign aid post in Indochina, advising on land reform. He works for the International Cooperation Administration, FOA's successor.

Benson has since ordered his department's records changed so Ladejinsky would no longer

Israel-Arab Bid Hailed

Britain in Support Of Peace Guarantee

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—Britain today threw its support behind the dramatic American proposal to guarantee the boundaries of Israel and rival Arab states if they work out a permanent peace settlement.

Eisenhower Administration officials place high hopes on the offer made by Secretary of State Dulles yesterday in a speech before the Council on Foreign Relations in New York.

A FOREIGN OFFICE statement issued in London today gave British support, saying the American proposal is "an important contribution toward solution of the most critical, outstanding problem in the Mideast.

The statement said also that Britain is ready to join in the U. S. proposed loan to assist Israel in paying compensation to Arab refugees in Palestine.

Dulles stressed in his speech that the United States is acting as a "friend of both Israelis and Arabs."

He emphasized, too, that he made the proposals "with the authority of President Eisenhower."

THE MOVE constituted an unprecedented American bid to settle the long-standing Israel-Arab conflict once and for all. It was backed by other offers of U. S. help which could run into many millions of dollars.

The proposals, it was learned, were worked out in the State Department, passed on by the National Security Council, and perfected in conferences with Eisenhower when the President was in Washington briefly this week.

The timing of the announcement apparently was influenced by reports over several months that Russia is trying to extend its influence in the stratigic, oil-rich Middle East with offers of economic assistance and military equipment.

THE SOVIET policy appears to be aimed at trying to develop some kind of neutral bloc in the region. The aim of the United States, Britain and France has been to create a Middle East de-

Ulster Has Three New Polio Cases

Total for Year Is Now at 16

Three more cases of polio have been reported in Ulster county, bringing the total for the year to 16—14 residents and two visitors.

All three of the new cases were residents of the county, according to Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner. Two of the three new cases are non-paralytic. The third has some paralytic involvement.

DR. HARGRAVE said there had been a "fairly sharp rise" in recent weeks but it was not felt to be alarming. There are no definite epidemic areas in the county, he said, pointing out that the cases reported so far had been "widely scattered" with no more than two or three cases in any one portion of the county.

One of the new cases is a five-year-old boy residing just south

Winter Hold Crop Cost Sharing Set

Establishing winter cover crops has been added to the list of Agricultural Conservation Practices available for federal cost-sharing, it was announced today by John S. Geary of the Ulster County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, 54 John street.

The purpose of the practice is to establish a vegetative cover of small grains or grasses in the fall of 1955 to protect the land from erosion over the winter of 1955-56, he explained.

FARM OWNERS who are interested in requesting federal cost sharing for this practice are asked to enroll at the county office or send in a letter of request to the county committee by September 15.

The purpose of the "practice" of establishing winter cover of small grains or grasses is the establishment of a vegetative cover in the fall.

This practice may be carried out on any land which requires the establishment of a cover crop in the late summer or fall of 1955 to protect it from erosion over the following winter. Cover crops of rye, wheat, winter barley, and ryegrass will be eligible. Cost sharing under this practice is limited to the seed only.

Cuts Loom Next Year In Foreign Aid Fund

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—Sens. Byrd (D-Va.) and George (D-Ga.) predicted today that Congress, shooting for a balanced budget and tax reduction, will take sharp aim next year at the foreign aid program.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said he believes substantial reductions can be made under the $2,700,000,000 Congress voted last session for foreign military and economic assistance.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he will support "drastic" reductions in aid funds next year, although he resisted efforts to cut this year's total below the amount finally approved.

President Eisenhower asked last January for 3½ billion dollars in new foreign aid money.

Schmidt Bares Rigors As Prisoner in China

Delake, Ore., Aug. 27 (AP)—Airman Danny Schmidt, whose martial affairs have attracted widespread attention, has recounted from his honeymoon cottage here some of the rigors he underwent as a prisoner of the Chinese Communists.

A B-29 gunner, he was taken prisoner of war Jan. 13, 1952, and was held captive for 32 months.

While he was a prisoner, his young wife Una, said she had married another man believing that Schmidt was dead.

Danny was reunited with his wife earlier this week and Gerry Pratt, a reporter for the Portland Oregonian traced them to a cottage at Delake, where the Schmidts went for a "second honeymoon."

Schmidt in a story by Pratt which was copyrighted by the Oregonian, told how he parachuted out of the plane after it was hit by a shell.

"I can't say what I did through the next 11 hours except that I followed survival instructions as they had been briefed to me earlier * * *.

"The rest happened quickly. North Koreans picked me up in a field at 11 in the morning. They were a little rough before tieing me up and leading me off to a farm house. * * *

"I was in three prisons—all just about the same. They were full of Chinese criminals. I didn't get to see a prisoner of war camp all the time I was in their hands.

Comstock Prison Outbreak Called Spontaneous With Minor Planning

Albany, Aug. 27 (AP)—Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh today described last week's rebellion at Great Meadow Correctional Institution as "in large part spontaneous with little prior organization or planning."

In a report made public by Gov. Harriman, McHugh declared many of the 174 convicts taking part had said they had no complaints and had been drawn into the disturbance accidentally. They were afraid to get out, McHugh asserted, because "they had to live with convicts, not guards."

Guards and state police used nightsticks and guns as clubs in a 26-minute battle early Aug. 18 to quell the uprising. Fourteen inmates, eight guards and three troopers were injured.

McHugh said several groups of convicts had decided not to return to their cells while baseball games were in progress in the recreation yard shortly before the rebellion began about 5 p. m. Aug. 17.

"If there had been a long period of prior planning for the disturbance I am confident that the guards would not have been allowed to collect approximately 12 bats which were on the fields," he commented.

The rebels gathered in one corner of the yard and refused to enter their cells. They demanded a meeting with McHugh to air what they said were grievances.

The commissioner reported that about 15 convicts were interviewed the following day in an effort to determine some pattern of complaint. None was developed, he said.

"A few inmates complained about the taste and flavor of food but not about its sufficiency," he declared, "while several were satisfied apparently with the flavor but complained about the quality."

Great Meadow is at Comstock, Washington county.

McHugh noted that Great Meadow had been converted to a reformatory-type institution for younger inmates on April 1, 1954. He said about 50 of the rebels were holdovers from when it had been a maximum security

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, said he believes substantial reductions can be made under the $2,700,000,000 Congress voted last session for foreign military and economic assistance.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he will support "drastic" reductions in aid funds next year, although he resisted efforts to cut this year's total below the amount finally approved.

President Eisenhower asked last January for 3½ billion dollars in new foreign aid money.

Schmidt Bares Rigors As Prisoner in China

Delake, Ore., Aug. 27 (AP)—Airman Danny Schmidt, whose martial affairs have attracted widespread attention, has recounted from his honeymoon cottage here some of the rigors he underwent as a prisoner of the Chinese Communists.

A B-29 gunner, he was taken prisoner of war Jan. 13, 1952, and was held captive for 32 months.

While he was a prisoner, his young wife Una, said she had married another man believing that Schmidt was dead.

Danny was reunited with his wife earlier this week and Gerry Pratt, a reporter for the Portland Oregonian traced them to a cottage at Delake, where the Schmidts went for a "second honeymoon."

Schmidt in a story by Pratt which was copyrighted by the Oregonian, told how he parachuted out of the plane after it was hit by a shell.

"I can't say what I did through the next 11 hours except that I followed survival instructions as they had been briefed to me earlier * * *.

"The rest happened quickly. North Koreans picked me up in a field at 11 in the morning. They were a little rough before tieing me up and leading me off to a farm house. * * *

"I was in three prisons—all just about the same. They were full of Chinese criminals. I didn't get to see a prisoner of war camp all the time I was in their hands.

"Chinese torture is mostly

Comstock Prison Outbreak Called Spontaneous With Minor Planning

Albany, Aug. 27 (AP)—Correction Commissioner Thomas J. McHugh today described last week's rebellion at Great Meadow Correctional Institution as "in large part spontaneous with little prior organization or planning."

In a report made public by Gov. Harriman, McHugh declared many of the 174 convicts taking part had said they had no complaints and had been drawn into the disturbance accidentally. They were afraid to get out, McHugh asserted, because "they had to live with convicts, not guards."

Guards and state police used nightsticks and guns as clubs in a 26-minute battle early Aug. 18 to quell the uprising. Fourteen inmates, eight guards and three troopers were injured.

McHugh said several groups of convicts had decided not to return to their cells while baseball games were in progress in the recreation yard shortly before the rebellion began about 5 p. m. Aug. 17.

"If there had been a long period of prior planning for the disturbance I am confident that the guards would not have been allowed to collect approximately 12 bats which were on the fields," he commented.

The rebels gathered in one corner of the yard and refused to enter their cells. They demanded a meeting with McHugh to air what they said were grievances.

The commissioner reported that about 15 convicts were interviewed the following day in an effort to determine some pattern of complaint. None was developed, he said.

"A few inmates complained about the taste and flavor of food but not about its sufficiency," he declared, "while several were satisfied apparently with the flavor but complained about the quality."

Great Meadow is at Comstock, Washington county.

McHugh noted that Great Meadow had been converted to a reformatory-type institution for younger inmates on April 1, 1954. He said about 50 of the rebels were holdovers from when it had been a maximum security

Return to France Demanded of Sultan

Aix les Bains, France, Aug. 27 (AP)—A new hitch developed in the French-Moroccan political talks today when the Istiqlal (Independence) party demanded the return to France of deposed Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef before it would join a proposed coalition government.

Pierre July, French minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, told reporters this could not be accepted. The French position, July said, is that the government should be formed before ben Youssef is allowed to return from his two-year Madagascar exile.

This development upset the conference timetable. French Premier Edgar Faure originally planned to fly back to Paris tonight with an agreement in his pocket for cabient approval tomorrow. Faure will remain here for "supplementary" conferences.

He arrived home by plane yesterday. No one was home and neighbors told him his father had died Monday and that his family was attending the funeral. Services were over when he reached the cemetery but the grave had not yet been covered. Nicholas begged that the coffin be opened for a final glimpse of his father's face.

The Southern Association, representing mine owners employing from 40,000 to 50,000 miners, and several small operator groups agreed yesterday to the same pay boost as Lewis negotiated last week with the northern segment of the industry which employs about 125,000 men. Indiana and Illinois producers were expected to sign up today.

President to Confer With Labor Chief

Denver, Aug. 27 (AP) — President Eisenhower booked a conference with Secretary of Labor Mitchell today for what the cabinet officer called a "discussion of Labor Department problems."

Mitchell declined to elaborate on arrival in town last night for the meeting at the Summer White House. And James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen he had "no idea" why the conference was arranged.

Mitchell checked in at a downtown hotel at just about the time the President was returning to Denver after a day of trout fishing at Pine, Colo., about 45 miles southwest of here in the Rocky Mountains.

of their Loan Guaranty benefits available, can take advantage of this special credit aid by applying to their leaders for GI loans. Federal National Mortgage Association, a government secondary mortgage market, is authorized to purchase and make contracts to purchase VA guaranteed disaster mortgages made by private lenders as a result of the disaster.

It may be possible in some cases for World War 2 and Post-Korea veterans, whose GI homes have been destroyed or so severly damaged as to make restoration impractical, to have their Loan Guaranty rights restored if VA does not suffer any loss on the original loan. VA, Mr. Lanning said, also urges veterans with GI loans on homes affected by hurricane Diane to get in touch with their lenders to work out plans, if necessary, for extending or reamortizing loan payments.

VA WILL cooperate fully. Lenders holding GI loans also may grant supplemental GI loans to veterans for the restoration of the home or for the property damage. GI loans made solely for the replacement or reconstruction of residential property that has been destroyed or substantially damaged by the hurricane and resulting flood will not be subject to credit controls. Further informotion concerning these credit aids to veterans who were affected by the hurricane may be obtained by writing or visiting the Veterans Administration Contact Office, 286 Fair street, Kingston.

Johnston said two agriculture department officials on whose advice Benson fired Ladejinsky will be called to testify.

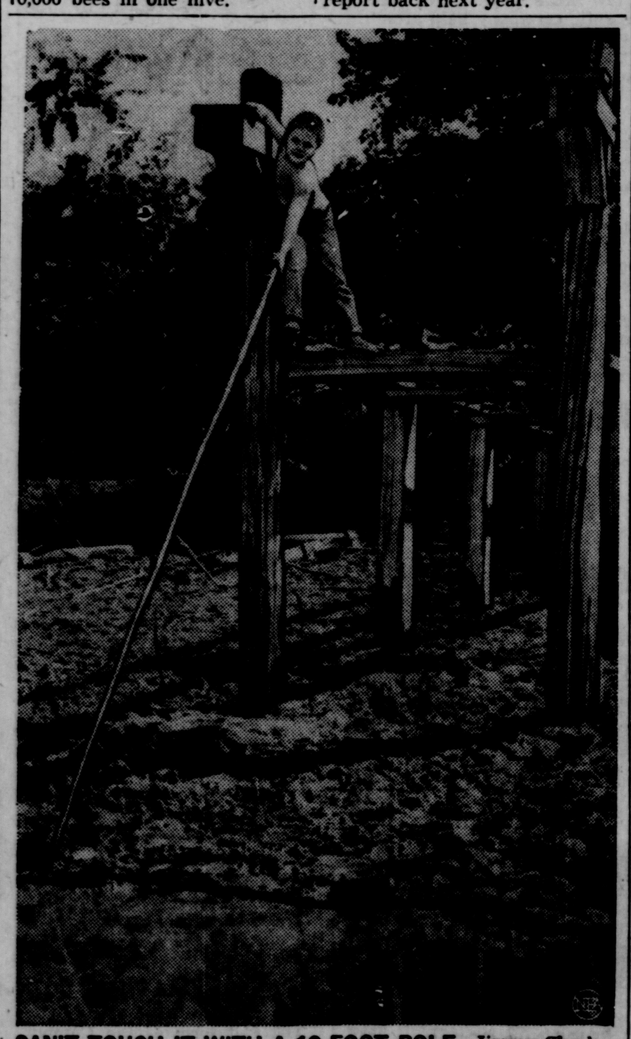

CHASANOW, former chief of the chart section in the navy's hydrographic office, was fired as a security risk, then cleared and reinstated. His job was abolished last fall, and he refused to accept another position the navy offered him.

Under the Eisenhower administration loyalty-security program a government worker can be classed as a "security risk" not only for suspected disloyalty but also for excessive drinking, dope addiction or other faults deemed likely to make him unqualified to handle government secrets.

The Civil Service Commission reported 3,432 federal employes were fired for security reasons under the Eisenhower progam from May 28, 1953, to March 31, 1955.

SECURITY RISK firings were praised by some Republican campaigners last year as evidence that Communists were being cleaned out of government. But Democrats called the GOP claims a politically — inspired "hoax."

The Johnston subcommittee is a branch of the Senate Civil Service Committee which has been instructed by the Senate to study the security program and report back next year.

Fire Is Still . . .

in the air," Knoblock said.

"As we approached the refinery, thick, oily clouds were boiling up from the plant. There was one huge blaze, surrounded by numerous smaller fires. There were so many, it was difficult to try to count them.

"YOU COULD SEE the streams of water being played on the fire and a crowd of spectators. Oil trucks were on the move, apparently getting out of the danger zone."

Whiting police reported the damage zone within the plant grounds covered an area of more than two acres. Windows were reported shattered in Crown Point, Ind., about 20 miles south of the scene.

The Standard Oil Co., which maintains its own police and fire departments was fighting the blaze with the help of firemen from Whiting, Hammond and East Chicago.

Newsmen were barred from entering the plant grounds, hampering efforts to obtain details.

WHITING POLICE said they understood the hydroformer, a new facility, has been in operation from 30 to 60 days and was still under test when it exploded.

They said the blast sent up huge columns of smoke that could be seen more than 20 miles away. Flames soared more than 200 feet into the air, police added.

The force of the blast hurled a sheet of steel estimated at two inches in thickness and about 75 feet long onto Indianapolis Blvd. (U. S. Highway 41), Whiting's principal thoroughfare. A second sheet about the same dimensions flattened a parked automobile a block and a half from the plant.

Gary Post Tribune newsmen, reporting to their office via two-way radio, said Standard Oil workers built dams and dikes to stop the flow of oil and gasoline. They also reported:

HOMES THREE blocks west and south of the plant, located at 128th street and Indianapolis Blvd., were being evacuated by some 700 to 800 persons.

Firemen strove to keep flames away from a tank of natural gas in the fire area—lest it also go up with a terriffic explosion.

Homes at 1822, 1836 and 1828 Ann St., about a block north of the plant, were damaged. The house at 1822 was hit hard and a piece of flying steel dug a crater ten feet wide and six or eight feet deep in the back yard. The garage in the rear was demolished and an automobile was bounced onto the roof section, where it landed upside down.

ONE FLYING PIECE of equipment crushed a combination store-residence at 1825 129th St. The family, which lived in the rear of the store, was not accounted for immediately.

Automobiles were battered and pieces of pavement along Indianapolis Blvd. were ripped up.

Four homes in the block between Ann St. and 128th St. facing Indianapolis Blvd. were hit hard. One of the houses was knocked completely off its foundation.

The Post Tribune reported that Gary, about five miles east of Whiting, was covered by a pall of smoke.

WORKERS FROM as far away as Valparaiso, Ind., 25 miles away, came to work with umbrellas. Unaware of the blast at the time, they thought it was a dark day with a threat of rain.

Most home telephones in the vicinity of the explosion were out of order. So were telephones in some nearby communities.

A unidentified guard, who said he had witnessed a tremendous explosion in an oil plant in 1921, called this one "the worst I've ever seen."

Man Given 10 Days After Disturbance

A New York city man was sentenced to 10 days in the Ulster County Jail when he appeared in City Court today as the result of a disturbance at 11:01 p. m., Friday in front of the Broadway Steak House, 19 Broadway.

Salvardore Martinez, 33, was arrested by Officers Kivlan and Whispell on a public intoxication charge after police received a report that a glass in the front door of the steak house had been broken.

James Lowe, an employe of Camp Chi-Wan-Da, Ulster Park, who police said was also involved in the disturbance, was taken to Kingston Hospital, treated for laceration of the arm, and confined overnight. Martinez received the jail sentence in lieu of $10 fine.

Winter Hold Crop

Volunteer stands will not qualify.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for cost sharing an adequate seedbed must be prepared and the land must be seeded to at least two bushels per acre of rye, wheat or winter barley or at least 15 pounds per acre of ryegrass. Adequate amounts of fertilizer must be applied if determined by the county committee to be necessary for successful establishment of the cover crop but no cost sharing for fertilizer will be made under this practice. A good stand and good growth must be obtained early enough in the fall of 1955 to protect the land from late fall and winter rains. The winter cover may not be plowed under in the spring of 1956 earlier than April 1. Pasturing of the cover crop consistent with good management is permitted but none of the growth may be harvested for hay silage or seed.

The rate of cost sharing has been established at $1.50 per acre.

said he would urge all-out support for this worthwhile organization that is "doing so much for those who have so little."

Next year the organization will receive an allocation from the local Community Chest, however approximately $2,000 is needed to carry out the current improvement program.

THE EXPANSION program for the coming year will include re-modeling of the present building and the formation of a club for elderly people.

The Volunteers of America welfare and humanitarian services have been in operation in the city of Kingston for the past 30 years. This year 560 meals, 980 pieces of furniture and clothing and 335 nights lodgings were given to transient families and men and women.

Contributions may be sent to the Volunteers of America, Central Post Office Box 23.

To Hold Police School

The FBI will conduct a police school Sept. 12-16 at the city hall, at which time there will be instructions in all branches of police work and instructions on the pistol range.

More Hot Weather Heading for East

(By The Associated Press)

It looks like a hot weekend for the middle section of the country, and some of the warm weather appeared heading into the eastern states.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy over the midwest and the dry, hot weather extended southward across the plains to Texas.

Temperatures climbed above 100 for the third straight day yesterday in the central plains and South Dakota. Top marks were 106 at Hill City, Kan., and Burwell, Neb.

COOLER WEATHER extended over the northern plains, the upper Great Lakes and the northeast. Skies were cloudy and there were showers in some parts of the cool belt. Readings were in the 60s.

Fairly pleasant summer weather prevailed in the far west with temperatures in the 50s and 60s except in the southern desert region where hot weather continued. It was 90 early today at El Centro, Calif., while the country's top mark yesterday was 111 at Thermal, Calif.

Only wet spots outside the cool areas were along the Gulf Coast and the southern and central Rockies. In the Gulf Coast a small tropical storm moved on shore near the mouth of the Mississippi river, bringing heavy rain and gusty winds. Pensacola, Fla., reported 3.20 inches of rain in 24 hours. Gusty winds also were reported in northeast Colorado.

N. Y.-N. J. Commission Downs Buffer Agency

New York, Aug. 27 (AP) — The New York-New Jersey waterfront commission says it is opposed to a buffer committee designed to function between longshoremen and the Bi-State group.

After a meeting yesterday with Samuel M. Lane, executive director of the commission, a spokesman said the agency has outlined its opposition in a letter sent to Daniel Gutman, counsel to Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

The letter was not made public.

Earlier yesterday in Albany, Harriman denied he had approved a specific plan for such a committee. The governor said adoption of any plan to ease the tension between the commission and the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) would be up to the commission.

Cuts Loom . . .

There are indications his new request next January may be about the same.

George said "further drastic cuts" can be made in foreign aid as one means of attaining a balanced budget in the next fiscal year beginning July 1. If such a balance appears certain, he said he will support reductions in individual income taxes. George, who also serves on the Finance Committee, was interviewed by telephone from his home in Vienna, Ga.

The possibility of a balanced budget in this fiscal year, ending next June 30, was raised earlier this week by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. But the secretary declined to discuss possible tax reduction, saying it was "entirely too early" to do so.

Byrd said in a statement the only kind of tax cuts he wants to see enacted are those made possible by a retrenchment in government spending. He said too much dependence should not be placed on "boom revenue" now flowing into the treasury on the crest of a high level of business activity which he said may not last.

The Virigian said he has no doubt the budget can be balanced. But, he added: "It would be foolhardy to balance the budget and then unbalance it by a premature reduction of taxes. The sound balancing of the budget must come about by reducing expenditures."

Chrylser Talks Resume

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP) — Negotiators for Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers raced against time today as UAW locals started preparations for a possible strike next Wednesday midnight. Contract talks were to resume today and another meeting was scheduled tomorrow, the first Sunday session since negotiations began June 27.

Two Held in $11,000 Inside Payroll Theft

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—After questioning some 100 employes of a mid-town jewelry company, police early today charged a man and woman with taking part in a $11,000 payroll robbery there.

Police said the man, identified as Thomas Campos, 28, was one of two who yesterday held up the Fashion Craft Jewelry Co. (20 W. 36th street). Still being sought is a second man.

Campos was charged with assault and robbery. The woman, identified as Carmen Colon, 24, a machine operator for the jewelry company, was booked on charges of acting in concert with him.

Britain Supports

fensive system allied with the West.

The great difficulty standing in the way of the western goal has been continuing hostility between Israel and the Arab states.

A 1949 armistice brought their full-scale war to an end, but there have been numerous border skirmishes and raids since. Just yesterday an Egyptian military spokesman in Cairo reported that 13 Israeli soldiers had been killed in two of three clashes this week near the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

THE VOICE of America beamed a special broadcast of Dulles' speech to the Middle East and followed this with Arabic and Hebrew translations.

There was no immediate reaction from any of the Arab governments, but Middle Eastern diplomats here approached the plan cautiously. The eight Arab League members were expected to confer among themselves to prepare a joint formal reply.

At the United Nations, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold welcomed Dulles' proposals, praising their "generous and constructive spirit."

Return to France Demanded of Sultan

Aix les Bains, France, Aug. 27 (AP)—A new hitch developed in the French-Moroccan political talks today when the Istiqlal (Independence) party demanded the return to France of deposed Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef before it would join a proposed coalition government.

Pierre July, French minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, told reporters this could not be accepted. The French position, July said, is that the government should be formed before ben Youssef is allowed to return from his two-year Madagascar exile.

This development upset the conference timetable. French Premier Edgar Faure originally planned to fly back to Paris tonight with an agreement in his pocket for cabient approval tomorrow. Faure will remain here for "supplementary" conferences.

Dead Father Viewed

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—Cemetery and health officials waived the rules yesterday to allow a grief-stricken soldier to get a last look at his dead father. Nicholas Prestigiacomo, airman 2/c stationed in Korea, was granted a 30-day leave Tuesday to return home when he learned his father, Joseph, 54, was critically ill. He arrived home by plane yesterday. No one was home and neighbors told him his father had died Monday and that his family was attending the funeral. Services were over when he reached the cemetery but the grave had not yet been covered. Nicholas begged that the coffin be opened for a final glimpse of his father's face.

Lewis' United Mine Workers Union. The Southern Association, representing mine owners employing from 40,000 to 50,000 miners, and several small operator groups agreed yesterday to the same pay boost as Lewis negotiated last week with the northern segment of the industry which employs about 125,000 men. Indiana and Illinois producers were expected to sign up today.

President to Confer With Labor Chief

Denver, Aug. 27 (AP) — President Eisenhower booked a conference with Secretary of Labor Mitchell today for what the cabinet officer called a "discussion of Labor Department problems."

Mitchell declined to elaborate on arrival in town last night for the meeting at the Summer White House. And James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen he had "no idea" why the conference was arranged.

Mitchell checked in at a downtown hotel at just about the time the President was returning to Denver after a day of trout fishing at Pine, Colo., about 45 miles southwest of here in the Rocky Mountains.

of their Loan Guaranty benefits available, can take advantage of this special credit aid by applying to their leaders for GI loans. Federal National Mortgage Association, a government secondary mortgage market, is authorized to purchase and make contracts to purchase VA guaranteed disaster mortgages made by private lenders as a result of the disaster.

It may be possible in some cases for World War 2 and Post-Korea veterans, whose GI homes have been destroyed or so severly damaged as to make restoration impractical, to have their Loan Guaranty rights restored if VA does not suffer any loss on the original loan. VA, Mr. Lanning said, also urges veterans with GI loans on homes affected by hurricane Diane to get in touch with their lenders to work out plans, if necessary, for extending or reamortizing loan payments.

VA WILL cooperate fully. Lenders holding GI loans also may grant supplemental GI loans to veterans for the restoration of the home or for the property damage. GI loans made solely for the replacement or reconstruction of residential property that has been destroyed or substantially damaged by the hurricane and resulting flood will not be subject to credit controls. Further informotion concerning these credit aids to veterans who were affected by the hurricane may be obtained by writing or visiting the Veterans Administration Contact Office, 286 Fair street, Kingston.

be listed as a security risk.

Johnston said two agriculture department officials on whose advice Benson fired Ladejinsky will be called to testify.

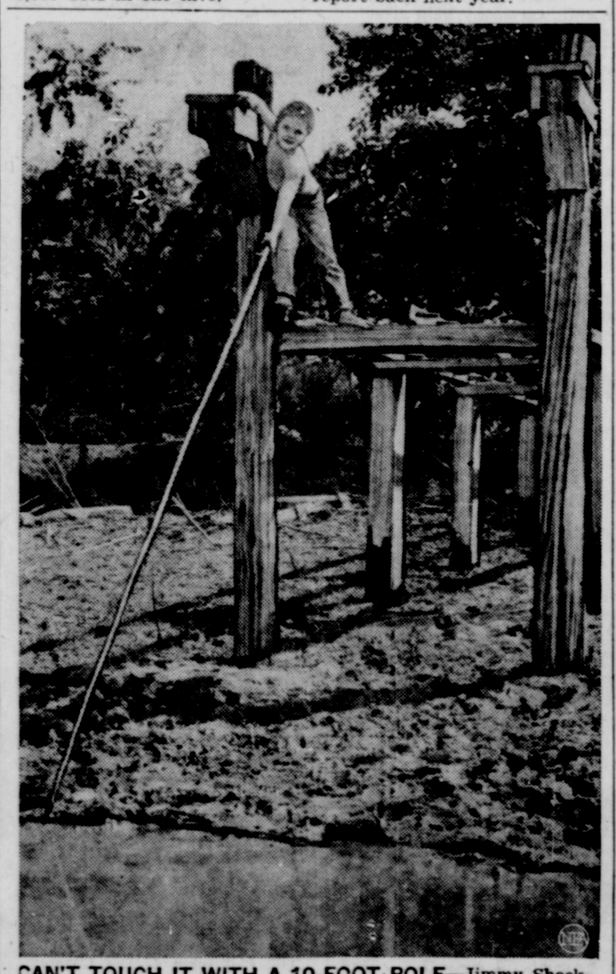

CHASANOW, former chief of the chart section in the navy's hydrographic office, was fired as a security risk, then cleared and reinstated. His job was abolished last fall, and he refused to accept another position the navy offered him.

Under the Eisenhower administration loyalty-security program a government worker can be classed as a "security risk" not only for suspected disloyalty but also for excessive drinking, dope addiction or other faults deemed likely to make him unqualified to handle government secrets.

The Civil Service Commission reported 3,432 federal employes were fired for security reasons under the Eisenhower progam from May 28, 1953, to March 31, 1955.

SECURITY RISK firings were praised by some Republican campaigners last year as evidence that Communists were being cleaned out of government. But Democrats called the GOP claims a politically — inspired "hoax."

The Johnston subcommittee is a branch of the Senate Civil Service Committee which has been instructed by the Senate to study the security program and report back next year.

Fire Is Still . . .

in the air," Knoblock said.

"As we approached the refinery, thick, oily clouds were boiling up from the plant. There was one huge blaze, surrounded by numerous smaller fires. There were so many, it was difficult to try to count them.

"YOU COULD SEE the streams of water being played on the fire and a crowd of spectators. Oil trucks were on the move, apparently getting out of the danger zone."

Whiting police reported the damage zone within the plant grounds covered an area of more than two acres. Windows were reported shattered in Crown Point, Ind., about 20 miles south of the scene.

The Standard Oil Co., which maintains its own police and fire departments was fighting the blaze with the help of firemen from Whiting, Hammond and East Chicago.

Newsmen were barred from entering the plant grounds, hampering efforts to obtain details.

WHITING POLICE said they understood the hydroformer, a new facility, has been in operation from 30 to 60 days and was still under test when it exploded.

They said the blast sent up huge columns of smoke that could be seen more than 20 miles away. Flames soared more than 200 feet into the air, police added.

The force of the blast hurled a sheet of steel estimated at two inches in thickness and about 75 feet long onto Indianapolis Blvd. (U. S. Highway 41), Whiting's principal thoroughfare. A second sheet about the same dimensions flattened a parked automobile a block and a half from the plant.

Gary Post Tribune newsmen, reporting to their office via two-way radio, said Standard Oil workers built dams and dikes to stop the flow of oil and gasoline. They also reported:

HOMES THREE blocks west and south of the plant, located at 128th street and Indianapolis Blvd., were being evacuated by some 700 to 800 persons.

Firemen strove to keep flames away from a tank of natural gas in the fire area—lest it also go up with a terriffic explosion.

Homes at 1822, 1836 and 1828 Ann St., about a block north of the plant, were damaged. The house at 1822 was hit hard and a piece of flying steel dug a crater ten feet wide and six or eight feet deep in the back yard. The garage in the rear was demolished and an automobile was bounced onto the roof section, where it landed upside down.

ONE FLYING PIECE of equipment crushed a combination store-residence at 1825 129th St. The family, which lived in the rear of the store, was not accounted for immediately.

Automobiles were battered and pieces of pavement along Indianapolis Blvd. were ripped up.

Four homes in the block between Ann St. and 128th St. facing Indianapolis Blvd. were hit hard. One of the houses was knocked completely off its foundation.

The Post Tribune reported that Gary, about five miles east of Whiting, was covered by a pall of smoke.

WORKERS FROM as far away as Valparaiso, Ind., 25 miles away, came to work with umbrellas. Unaware of the blast at the time, they thought it was a dark day with a threat of rain.

Most home telephones in the vicinity of the explosion were out of order. So were telephones in some nearby communities.

A unidentified guard, who said he had witnessed a tremendous explosion in an oil plant in 1921, called this one "the worst I've ever seen.

Man Given 10 Days After Disturbance

A New York city man was sentenced to 10 days in the Ulster County Jail when he appeared in City Court today as the result of a disturbance at 11:01 p. m., Friday in front of the Broadway Steak House, 19 Broadway.

Salvardore Martinez, 33, was arrested by Officers Kivlan and Whispell on a public intoxication charge after police received a report that a glass in the front door of the steak house had been broken.

James Lowe, an employe of Camp Chi-Wan-Da, Ulster Park, who police said was also involved in the disturbance, was taken to Kingston Hospital, treated for laceration of the arm, and confined overnight. Martinez received the jail sentence in lieu of $10 fine.

Winter Hold Crop

Volunteer stands will not qualify.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for cost sharing an adequate seedbed must be prepared and the land must be seeded to at least two bushels per acre of rye, wheat or winter barley or at least 15 pounds per acre of ryegrass. Adequate amounts of fertilizer must be applied if determined by the county committee to be necessary for successful establishment of the cover crop but no cost sharing for fertilizer will be made under this practice. A good stand and good growth must be obtained early enough in the fall of 1955 to protect the land from late fall and winter rains. The winter cover may not be plowed under in the spring of 1956 earlier than April 1. Pasturing of the cover crop consistent with good management is permitted but none of the growth may be harvested for hay silage or seed.

The rate of cost sharing has been established at $1.50 per acre.

Next year the organization will receive an allocation from the local Community Chest, however approximately $2,000 is needed to carry out the current improvement program.

THE EXPANSION program for the coming year will include re-modeling of the present building and the formation of a club for elderly people.

The Volunteers of America welfare and humanitarian services have been in operation in the city of Kingston for the past 30 years. This year 560 meals, 980 pieces of furniture and clothing and 335 nights lodgings were given to transient families and men and women.

More Hot Weather Heading for East

(By The Associated Press)

It looks like a hot weekend for the middle section of the country, and some of the warm weather appeared heading into the eastern states.

Skies were clear to partly cloudy over the midwest and the dry, hot weather extended southward across the plains to Texas.

Temperatures climbed above 100 for the third straight day yesterday in the central plains and South Dakota. Top marks were 106 at Hill City, Kan., and Burwell, Neb.

COOLER WEATHER extended over the northern plains, the upper Great Lakes and the northeast. Skies were cloudy and there were showers in some parts of the cool belt. Readings were in the 60s.

Fairly pleasant summer weather prevailed in the far west with temperatures in the 50s and 60s except in the southern desert region where hot weather continued. It was 90 early today at El Centro, Calif., while the country's top mark yesterday was 111 at Thermal, Calif.

Only wet spots outside the cool areas were along the Gulf Coast and the southern and central Rockies. In the Gulf Coast a small tropical storm moved on shore near the mouth of the Mississippi river, bringing heavy rain and gusty winds. Pensacola, Fla., reported 3.20 inches of rain in 24 hours. Gusty winds also were reported in northeast Colorado.

N. Y.-N. J. Commission Downs Buffer Agency

New York, Aug. 27 (AP) — The New York-New Jersey waterfront commission says it is opposed to a buffer committee designed to function between longshoremen and the Bi-State group.

After a meeting yesterday with Samuel M. Lane, executive director of the commission, a spokesman said the agency has outlined its opposition in a letter sent to Daniel Gutman, counsel to Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

The letter was not made public.

Earlier yesterday in Albany, Harriman denied he had approved a specific plan for such a committee. The governor said adoption of any plan to ease the tension between the commission and the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) would be up to the commission.

Cuts Loom . . .

There are indications his new request next January may be about the same.

George said "further drastic cuts" can be made in foreign aid as one means of attaining a balanced budget in the next fiscal year beginning July 1. If such a balance appears certain, he said he will support reductions in individual income taxes. George, who also serves on the Finance Committee, was interviewed by telephone from his home in Vienna, Ga.

The possibility of a balanced budget in this fiscal year, ending next June 30, was raised earlier this week by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. But the secretary declined to discuss possible tax reduction, saying it was "entirely too early" to do so.

Byrd said in a statement the only kind of tax cuts he wants to see enacted are those made possible by a retrenchment in government spending. He said too much dependence should not be placed on "boom revenue" now flowing into the treasury on the crest of a high level of business activity which he said may not last.

The Virigian said he has no doubt the budget can be balanced. But, he added: "It would be foolhardy to balance the budget and then unbalance it by a premature reduction of taxes. The sound balancing of the budget must come about by reducing expenditures."

Chrylser Talks Resume

Detroit, Aug. 27 (AP) — Negotiators for Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers raced against time today as UAW locals started preparations for a possible strike next Wednesday midnight. Contract talks were to resume today and another meeting was scheduled tomorrow, the first Sunday session since negotiations began June 27.

Two Held in $11,000 Inside Payroll Theft

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—After questioning some 100 employes of a mid-town jewelry company, police early today charged a man and woman with taking part in a $11,000 payroll robbery there.

Police said the man, identified as Thomas Campos, 28, was one of two who yesterday held up the Fashion Craft Jewelry Co. (20 W. 36th street). Still being sought is a second man.

Campos was charged with assault and robbery. The woman, identified as Carmen Colon, 24, a machine operator for the jewelry company, was booked on charges of acting in concert with him.

Britain Supports

fensive system allied with the West.

The great difficulty standing in the way of the western goal has been continuing hostility between Israel and the Arab states.

A 1949 armistice brought their full-scale war to an end, but there have been numerous border skirmishes and raids since. Just yesterday an Egyptian military spokesman in Cairo reported that 13 Israeli soldiers had been killed in two of three clashes this week near the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

THE VOICE of America beamed a special broadcast of Dulles' speech to the Middle East and followed this with Arabic and Hebrew translations.

There was no immediate reaction from any of the Arab governments, but Middle Eastern diplomats here approached the plan cautiously. The eight Arab League members were expected to confer among themselves to prepare a joint formal reply.

At the United Nations, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold welcomed Dulles' proposals, praising their "generous and constructive spirit."

RETIREMENT PROBLEMS

Each year hundreds of thousands of Americans retire from their jobs under various labor programs. Their number will continue to grow in the next 20 years. This poses a severe problem — simply because most people can't afford retirement.

These people, not realizing the financial requirements of old age are much greater than they anticipate, either don't plan adequately or don't plan at all for retirement. Many can't plan financially because taxes and living costs are so high that they are unable to save. The problem will get worse because the life span is increasing—meaning there will be more and more older people.

Despite the growth of company pension programs, last year about 3,900,000 persons aged 65 or over received their main income from working. In most cases they had no other choice than to find a job. About 2,600,000 people in this age category depended on public assistance. Only 950,000, or seven per cent of the total, received benefits from company or union programs, while about 1,000,000, or less than eight per cent, were able to get along on returns from investments.

The bright spot in the picture is the growth of company pension plans. They have increased from fewer than 1,000 before World War II to between 18,000 and 20,000 by the end of last year.

More than company pension plans and social security are needed. An educational program, starting at an early age, to help people plan for retirement would be helpful. The labor unions have begun to work on this plan.

MORE SCIENTISTS NEEDED

American scientists gathered at Geneva for the international atomic energy conference have come up with a disturbing estimate of the number of atomic experts needed 10 years hence. By 1965, they figure, some 30,000 to 40,000 scientists and engineers will be required for American atomic energy alone.

The traditional reaction in this country would be, "So we need 40,000 scientists? O.K., we'll train 'em." That is much easier said than done. The estimate for 1965 is about double the number of men working in the field of atomic energy now.

To train that many additional experts in such a difficult field will require a tremendous shift of emphasis in our high schools and universities. Since the turn of the century, the trend has been away from basic science courses in our high schools. That trend must be reversed if the United States is to keep abreast of scientific developments.

This is especially true because automation, as well as atomic energy, will demand expertly trained men and women. Those fields require people well grounded in physics and mathematics—exactly the subjects that have dwindled most in the high schools.

The public must become aware of this basic fact of 20th century life: If the United States is to keep its position of leadership in science and technology, it must train many thousand more scientists annually than are now being trained.

Some people merely lack grace—and others are simply disgraceful.

Summer vacation time always finds many people scurrying back home—to get a rest.

LESSON FOR ADVERSITY

Some men cringe in the face of serious disease or other adversity. They cry out against the cruelty of fate. They ask themselves—and everyone else who will listen—"Why should it happen to me?"

Other men stand up to adversity. Instead of weltering in self pity, they make the best of it, accepting misfortune as part of life.

One of the latter is Diego Rivera, the famous Mexican artist. Not long ago he learned that the pains he had been suffering were caused by cancer. Far from despairing, he shrugged his shoulders and said: "Cancer is always serious and I'll probably die of it. But that's nothing to be in a bad humor about." Then he went back to his painting.

Not all of us have the courage to look trouble in the eye and go on living as best we can. But we can all take heart from the example of men who have done just that.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ISOLATION

Noah built himself an ark, but I sat up on my hill, near Otis, watching sheets of rain fall upon the peaceful Berkshires. We had two advantages over Noah, one, that our telephone continued to function, and secondly, that we had a portable radio which kept us informed of the disaster by moment to moment blows.

We lost our roads early in the situation, so that we could not get to the village of Otis. Many of our friends live in New Boston which is at the bottom of our hill, and we could not help wondering what had become of them. We soon heard that New Boston was wiped out and so was Winsted. From what we were hearing on the radio, everything was wiped out except our hill. When we plucked up enough courage to use the telephone, it was soon enough quite clear that a very large part of the Earth remained.

That is one of the advantages of a disaster: It reduces us and our circle to a proper proportion in the Cosmos. A man may be whatever he chooses to think of himself. He may even be a celebrity, making and unmaking Presidents, catered to by head-waiters and pointed out by signature-demanding fans. But along comes a little rain, really amounting to nothing in the sum total of total of rains—and where is the big man? He is floating about waiting for a little guy in a helicopter to rescue him.

There were some old folks in a house in New Boston who would not be saved by the helicopter. No, Sir! They hadn't never been in one of those things and they weren't going. And they did not go and the waters receded and the ancient ones survived, not because they had lived virtuous lives but probably because of the roughness of their hides and the fullness of consumption of fire-water in its multifarious forms.

This has been a tough Summer in these parts. First came a drought—a month or more without any rain worth speaking about, which burned the crops and browned the grass and dried the wells and turned the roads into dust. Then came the rain and flood. A friend of mine had managed somehow to get a crop of corn for his silo and now there is no corn and no silo. But he will manage somehow over the Winter, probably earning a living by reconstruction work. And he will build a new silo. Then he will plant a new crop. Also his wife will have another baby soon.

The genius of man is his ability to take what comes in his stride and to start all over again when disaster overtakes him. It is not necessary to have a hydrogen bomb to make a disaster. Man has been good at that during all the centuries we know about, and nature does its part all the time. It is amazing agility with which man restores not only himself but his material environment.

In a free society, men and women pitch in to do their share and if anyone wants to see what good natured co-operation and natural-born leadership can be, he ought to be in these parts during the flood. As soon as the rain let up, a couple of my neighbors were at work, voluntarily, without direction, without compensation, filling in holes in one road, so that it might, with great care and slow driving, be used to get bread and milk for the children.

It reminded me of the 1923 earthquake in Tokyo, when even while the Earth was quaking and the city was encircled by fires, volunteers were moving debris, were searching for bodies and were beginning to set up structures for dwelling purposes. It was, at first, each man for himself, and then somehow, everything became organized and the world was moving again. No one waited for orders from on high and when they did come, much of the preliminary work had somehow been done.

So, I sat on top of my hill—no newspapers, no mail, no light, not much telephoning, and little on the radio worth hearing. Tell me, is that horror of sound, that raucous atonality, that misery of voice, called Western hill-billy, out of New York, sung by male and female, authentic American music?

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ACCIDENTAL POISONINGS

A great many children's lives are lost every year due to accidental poisoning. Sometimes it is from such substances as lye, plant sprays, rat poisons, roach pastes and powders which most people carefully keep out of reach of small children. But all too often it is from some common household drug which, because it is harmless in the doses taken by adults, is not realized can be very dangerous to little ones. I mean such things as iodine, lysol, wintergreen oil and tonic pills of iron, quinine and strychnine and other substances such as benzene, gasoline, ink, cathartics, swallowed cigarettes, washing soda, and turpentine.

What amounts of these common substances would be dangerous for a year-old child since this is the age at which so many accidental poisonings occur? Roughly speaking, a teaspoonful of benzene, gasoline, iodine, or wintergreen oil should be so considered. Small amounts of arsenic, atropine, boric acid, carbolic acid, ink, lye, mothballs, strychnine, caustic lime, strong sleeping pills, roach pastes and powder, some black shoe polishes and dyes, washing sodas may cause serious trouble in the small child.

What can be done when your child has swallowed something you fear is dangerous for him? Of course, the first thought should be to call the physician for advice and leave an urgent message if you cannot reach him at once. The next thing should be to try to get the child to vomit once or twice as soon as possible. The simplest way to cause vomiting, as perhaps we all remember, is to try to make the child gag by slipping your finger down his throat and keep it there, moving, for a few moments to make sure he gags thoroughly. If he has not eaten recently, it may help him gag if you give him a glass of water or milk first. In the case of certain poisons it is advisable to give an antidote, if it is available at once, either in the first or second drink given to induce vomiting. For instance if the child has swallowed lye, one-quarter glass of vinegar mixed with three-quarters glass of water will help. If iodine has been swallowed, a slice of bread is given and then vomiting induced. However, if you do not know the antidote for the particular substance swallowed, remember that the important thing is to get the child to vomit promptly. In the older child or even in the younger one who will do what you tell him, a glass of water to which has been added a tablespoon of salt, or a teaspoon of mustard or some soapsuds will help empty the stomach. The child should be made to vomit twice if at all possible.

If you have not been able to reach the doctor and have not been able to make the child vomit within a few minutes, call the nearest hospital or any other doctor you know. Sometimes, if you are close to a hospital, it may be faster to take the child there at once, after having tried to make him vomit. The emptying of the stomach as soon as possible after you have realized what has happened may save his life.

Two Men With Their Feet on the Ground

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—The fact that Russian visitors are swarming all over the U. S. these days and that the Russian embassy people here are accepting every invitation they get doesn't mean that the FBI is relaxing its vigil.

Couple of weeks ago a young U. S. scientist was seen chatting with a Russian diplomat at a cocktail party. They found some kind of mutual interest and the scientist casually suggested that they have lunch sometime soon. The Russian said it was a fine idea.

Few days later an FBI agent quietly dropped in on the scientist and told the startled young man that it was perfectly okay to have lunch with the Russian. But the agent said he would appreciate it if the scientist would let him know about it first.

THE BIGGEST PARTY of the week was thrown by the Indonesians to celebrate the 10th anniversary of their independence. And whether or not they planned it that way the affair developed all of the flavor and mood of the political turmoil which now besets that young republic.

The guest list was made up on the assumption that it would be a garden party with most of the people fed and liquored outside. The tail end of a hurricane with driving rains, however, forced about five times more people inside the antique mansion which serves as a chancellory that it was ever built to accommodate.

The jammed humanity raised the temperature inside about 15 degrees. And the situation wasn't helped by the fact that the catering firm featured a New England boiled dinner, with a red-hot salad called "Gado Gado," to add the Indonesian touch.

In spite of the heat everyone seemed to be having a whale of a good time, combating the temperature with champagne.

THERE'S NO CRISIS the Navy can't handle. The same hurricane winds which fouled up the Indonesians forced a triple switch in the elaborate plans for the swearing-in ceremoney of new Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Arleigh Burke.

A YOUNG, EAGER Air Force lieutenant, while waiting in an outer office in the Pentagon, was smitten by the beautiful dark-eyed secretary there. With all the polish and suavity of his breed he began talking to her.

He finally worked up to asking the girl what her name was, and she replied, "Olivia Twining."

"That's a coincidence," he said "Our chief of staff has the same name. I'll introduce you to him sometime."

"That's kind of you," the girl replied, "but I've already met him. He's my father."

Next day, by chance, Gen. Nathan Twining ran into a group of reporters in the Pentagon corridor and startled them with the query:

"You fellows heard that we've had to move the new Academy site?"

The newsmen grabbed for their pencils. "What's the reason?" they demanded.

"Too much water there," he replied with a roar of laughter.

He was kidding them. He was referring to some publicity on how the site might have to be moved bacause there wasn't enough water. He explained that he had visited the new Academy grounds a few days ago and it was almost flooded under by tremendous rains.

It was finally held at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. But even though the manager of the officers' club there only had a few hours to get ready for the gigantic ceremony held after the swearing in, he came up with a huge side of cold roast beef, four kinds of salad, hams, turkeys and, of course, plenty of liquid refreshments for the 500 guests.

AN EXPERT ON such things claims that the way a husband and wife move through a crowded reception indicates who's boss. He reveals that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson always follows his wife through the crowd. So does Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas.

However, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles always barges ahead first, with his wife in his wake.

Only thing the expert has yet to figure out, he admits, is whether the one in front is being boss or just being pushed by the boss.

WHEN THE DEAN of the diplomatic corps here, Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstierne, is out of town the "acting dean" is Nicaraguan Ambassador Sevilla-Sacassa. When asked whether this distinction carried any special duties he replied:

"Just holding the fort with the reserves until the dean gets back."

Recreation Program Ends With Exhibition

Woodstock, Aug. 26 — The girls' recreation program, sponsored by the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, closed for the summer at the Recreation Field with an exhibition and party for their parents and friends. The guests were entertained with a presentation of a puppet show based on the story and song of Davy Crockett. The girls who made the puppets and participated in the show were: Christine Guzzi, Margaret Theeman, Merrie Kramer, Debbie Kramer, Nancy Theeman and Margie Watson.

The recreation program for girls has been in session during July and August, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Gilkey in July and Mrs Reginald Wilson in August, with an average of 25 girls a day attending

Among the art and craft work made during the summer by the girls are colorful paper mobiles, some with fish and bell motifs, raffia baskets, painted gourds, papier mache articles, marbleized bottles and the puppets for the show.

The paintings completed this year, which enlivened the walls of the recreation field club house, show particular individuality and originality this year. Largely abstract, Mrs. Wilson said that she believed that they reflect the gay, self-expressive attitude of this generation. They have also designed a number of unique potato prints on wrapping paper.

Included in the exhibit are other craft items such as shell and bead jewelry painted salad knife and fork sets, soap carving and painted cigar boxes. In all, the summer group has explored a wide variety of creative activities.

Serving as hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Bruff Olin, president of the Public Health Nursing Committee, and Mrs. Anna Kamen. Mrs. Olin said that a box of plaster has been donated to the Woodstock School.

RETIREMENT PROBLEMS

Each year hundreds of thousands of Americans retire from their jobs under various labor programs. Their number will continue to grow in the next 20 years. This poses a severe problem — simply because most people can't afford retirement.

These people, not realizing the financial requirements of old age are much greater than they anticipate, either don't plan adequately or don't plan at all for retirement. Many can't plan financially because taxes and living costs are so high that they are unable to save. The problem will get worse because the life span is increasing—meaning there will be more and more older people.

Despite the growth of company pension programs, last year about 3,900,000 persons aged 65 or over received their main income from working. In most cases they had no other choice than to find a job. About 2,600,000 people in this age category depended on public assistance. Only 950,000, or seven per cent of the total, received benefits from company or union programs, while about 1,000,000, or less than eight per cent, were able to get along on returns from investments.

The bright spot in the picture is the growth of company pension plans. They have increased from fewer than 1,000 before World War II to between 18,000 and 20,000 by the end of last year.

More than company pension plans and social security are needed. An educational program, starting at an early age, to help people plan for retirement would be helpful. The labor unions have begun to work on this plan.

MORE SCIENTISTS NEEDED

American scientists gathered at Geneva for the international atomic energy conference have come up with a disturbing estimate of the number of atomic experts needed 10 years hence. By 1965, they figure, some 30,000 to 40,000 scientists and engineers will be required for American atomic energy alone.

The traditional reaction in this country would be, "So we need 40,000 scientists? O.K., we'll train 'em." That is much easier said than done. The estimate for 1965 is about double the number of men working in the field of atomic energy now.

To train that many additional experts in such a difficult field will require a tremendous shift of emphasis in our high schools and universities. Since the turn of the century, the trend has been away from basic science courses in our high schools. That trend must be reversed if the United States is to keep abreast of scientific developments.

This is especially true because automation, as well as atomic energy, will demand expertly trained men and women. Those fields require people well grounded in physics and mathematics—exactly the subjects that have dwindled most in the high schools.

The public must become aware of this basic fact of 20th century life: If the United States is to keep its position of leadership in science and technology, it must train many thousand more scientists annually than are now being trained.

Some people merely lack grace—and others are simply disgraceful.

Summer vacation time always finds many people scurrying back home—to get a rest.

LESSON FOR ADVERSITY

Some men cringe in the face of serious disease or other adversity. They cry out against the cruelty of fate. They ask themselves—and everyone else who will listen—"Why should it happen to me?"

Other men stand up to adversity. Instead of weltering in self pity, they make the best of it, accepting misfortune as part of life.

One of the latter is Diego Rivera, the famous Mexican artist. Not long ago he learned that the pains he had been suffering were caused by cancer. Far from despairing, he shrugged his shoulders and said: "Cancer is always serious and I'll probably die of it. But that's nothing to be in a bad humor about." Then he went back to his painting.

Not all of us have the courage to look trouble in the eye and go on living as best we can. But we can all take heart from the example of men who have done just that.

'These Days'

ISOLATION

Noah built himself an ark, but I sat up on my hill, near Otis, watching sheets of rain fall upon the peaceful Berkshires. We had two advantages over Noah, one, that our telephone continued to function, and secondly, that we had a portable radio which kept us informed of the disaster by moment to moment blows.

We lost our roads early in the situation, so that we could not get to the village of Otis. Many of our friends live in New Boston which is at the bottom of our hill, and we could not help wondering what had become of them. We soon heard that New Boston was wiped out and so was Winsted. From what we were hearing on the radio, everything was wiped out except our hill. When we plucked up enough courage to use the telephone, it was soon enough quite clear that a very large part of the Earth remained.

That is one of the advantages of a disaster: It reduces us and our circle to a proper proportion in the Cosmos. A man may be whatever he chooses to think of himself. He may even be a celebrity, making and unmaking Presidents, catered to by head-waiters and pointed out by signature-demanding fans. But along comes a little rain, really amounting to nothing in the sum total of total of rains—and where is the big man? He is floating about waiting for a little guy in a helicopter to rescue him.

There were some old folks in a house in New Boston who would not be saved by the helicopter. No, Sir! They hadn't never been in one of those things and they weren't going. And they did not go and the waters receded and the ancient ones survived, not because they had lived virtuous lives but probably because of the roughness of their hides and the fullness of consumption of fire-water in its multifarious forms.

This has been a tough Summer in these parts. First came a drought—a month or more without any rain worth speaking about, which burned the crops and browned the grass and dried the wells and turned the roads into dust. Then came the rain and flood. A friend of mine had managed somehow to get a crop of corn for his silo and now there is no corn and no silo. But he will manage somehow over the Winter, probably earning a living by reconstruction work. And he will build a new silo. Then he will plant a new crop. Also his wife will have another baby soon.

The genius of man is his ability to take what comes in his stride and to start all over again when disaster overtakes him. It is not necessary to have a hydrogen bomb to make a disaster. Man has been good at that during all the centuries we know about, and nature does its part all the time. It is amazing agility with which man restores not only himself but his material environment.

In a free society, men and women pitch in to do their share and if anyone wants to see what good natured co-operation and natural-born leadership can be, he ought to be in these parts during the flood. As soon as the rain let up, a couple of my neighbors were at work, voluntarily, without direction, without compensation, filling in holes in one road, so that it might, with great care and slow driving, be used to get bread and milk for the children.

It reminded me of the 1923 earthquake in Tokyo, when even while the Earth was quaking and the city was encircled by fires, volunteers were moving debris, were searching for bodies and were beginning to set up structures for dwelling purposes. It was, at first, each man for himself, and then somehow, everything became organized and the world was moving again. No one waited for orders from on high and when they did come, much of the preliminary work had somehow been done.

So, I sat on top of my hill—no newspapers, no mail, no light, not much telephoning, and little on the radio worth hearing. Tell me, is that horror of sound, that raucous atonality, that misery of voice, called Western hill-billy, out of New York, sung by male and female, authentic American music?

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ACCIDENTAL POISONINGS

A great many children's lives are lost every year due to accidental poisoning. Sometimes it is from such substances as lye, plant sprays, rat poisons, roach pastes and powders which most people carefully keep out of reach of small children. But all too often it is from some common household drug which, because it is harmless in the doses taken by adults, is not realized can be very dangerous to little ones. I mean such things as iodine, lysol, wintergreen oil and tonic pills of iron, quinine and strychnine and other substances such as benzene, gasoline, ink, cathartics, swallowed cigarettes, washing soda, and turpentine.

What amounts of these common substances would be dangerous for a year-old child since this is the age at which so many accidental poisonings occur? Roughly speaking, a teaspoonful of benzene, gasoline, iodine, or wintergreen oil should be so considered. Small amounts of arsenic, atropine, boric acid, carbolic acid, ink, lye, mothballs, strychnine, caustic lime, strong sleeping pills, roach pastes and powder, some black shoe polishes and dyes, washing sodas may cause serious trouble in the small child.

What can be done when your child has swallowed something you fear is dangerous for him? Of course, the first thought should be to call the physician for advice and leave an urgent message if you cannot reach him at once. The next thing should be to try to get the child to vomit once or twice as soon as possible. The simplest way to cause vomiting, as perhaps we all remember, is to try to make the child gag by slipping your finger down his throat and keep it there, moving, for a few moments to make sure he gags thoroughly. If he has not eaten recently, it may help him gag if you give him a glass of water or milk first. In the case of certain poisons it is advisable to give an antidote, if it is available at once, either in the first or second drink given to induce vomiting. For instance if the child has swallowed lye, one-quarter glass of vinegar mixed with three-quarters glass of water will help. If iodine has been swallowed, a slice of bread is given and then vomiting induced. However, if you do not know the antidote for the particular substance swallowed, remember that the important thing is to get the child to vomit promptly. In the older child or even in the younger one who will do what you tell him, a glass of water to which has been added a tablespoon of salt, or a teaspoon of mustard or some soapsuds will help empty the stomach. The child should be made to vomit twice if at all possible.

If you have not been able to reach the doctor and have not been able to make the child vomit within a few minutes, call the nearest hospital or any other doctor you know. Sometimes, if you are close to a hospital, it may be faster to take the child there at once, after having tried to make him vomit. The emptying of the stomach as soon as possible after you have realized what has happened may save his life.

Two Men With Their Feet on the Ground

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—The fact that Russian visitors are swarming all over the U. S. these days and that the Russian embassy people here are accepting every invitation they get doesn't mean that the FBI is relaxing its vigil.

Couple of weeks ago a young U. S. scientist was seen chatting with a Russian diplomat at a cocktail party. They found some kind of mutual interest and the scientist casually suggested that they have lunch sometime soon. The Russian said it was a fine idea.

Few days later an FBI agent quietly dropped in on the scientist and told the startled young man that it was perfectly okay to have lunch with the Russian. But the agent said he would appreciate it if the scientist would let him know about it first.

THE BIGGEST PARTY of the week was thrown by the Indonesians to celebrate the 10th anniversary of their independence. And whether or not they planned it that way the affair developed all of the flavor and mood of the political turmoil which now besets that young republic.

The guest list was made up on the assumption that it would be a garden party with most of the people fed and liquored outside. The tail end of a hurricane with driving rains, however, forced about five times more people inside the antique mansion which serves as a chancellory that it was ever built to accommodate.

The jammed humanity raised the temperature inside about 15 degrees. And the situation wasn't helped by the fact that the catering firm featured a New England boiled dinner, with a red-hot salad called "Gado Gado," to add the Indonesian touch.

In spite of the heat everyone seemed to be having a whale of a good time, combating the temperature with champagne.

THERE'S NO CRISIS the Navy can't handle. The same hurricane winds which fouled up the Indonesians forced a triple switch in the elaborate plans for the swearing-in ceremoney of new Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Arleigh Burke.

A YOUNG, EAGER Air Force lieutenant, while waiting in an outer office in the Pentagon, was smitten by the beautiful dark-eyed secretary there. With all the polish and suavity of his breed he began talking to her.

He finally worked up to asking the girl what her name was, and she replied, "Olivia Twining."

"That's a coincidence," he said "Our chief of staff has the same name. I'll introduce you to him sometime."

"That's kind of you," the girl replied, "but I've already met him. He's my father."

Next day, by chance, Gen. Nathan Twining ran into a group of reporters in the Pentagon corridor and startled them with the query:

"You fellows heard that we've had to move the new Academy site?"

The newsmen grabbed for their pencils. "What's the reason?" they demanded.

"Too much water there," he replied with a roar of laughter.

He was kidding them. He was referring to some publicity on how the site might have to be moved bacause there wasn't enough water. He explained that he had visited the new Academy grounds a few days ago and it was almost flooded under by tremendous rains.

It was finally held at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. But even though the manager of the officers' club there only had a few hours to get ready for the gigantic ceremony held after the swearing in, he came up with a huge side of cold roast beef, four kinds of salad, hams, turkeys and, of course, plenty of liquid refreshments for the 500 guests.

AN EXPERT ON such things claims that the way a husband and wife move through a crowded reception indicates who's boss. He reveals that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson always follows his wife through the crowd. So does Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas.

However, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles always barges ahead first, with his wife in his wake.

Only thing the expert has yet to figure out, he admits, is whether the one in front is being boss or just being pushed by the boss.

WHEN THE DEAN of the diplomatic corps here, Norwegian Ambassador Wilhelm Munthe de Morgenstierne, is out of town the "acting dean" is Nicaraguan Ambassador Sevilla-Sacassa. When asked whether this distinction carried any special duties he replied:

"Just holding the fort with the reserves until the dean gets back."

Recreation Program Ends With Exhibition

Woodstock, Aug. 26 — The girls' recreation program, sponsored by the Woodstock Public Health Nursing Committee, closed for the summer at the Recreation Field with an exhibition and party for their parents and friends. The guests were entertained with a presentation of a puppet show based on the story and song of Davy Crockett. The girls who made the puppets and participated in the show were: Christine Guzzi, Margaret Theeman, Merrie Kramer, Debbie Kramer, Nancy Theeman and Margie Watson.

The recreation program for girls has been in session during July and August, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Gilkey in July and Mrs Reginald Wilson in August, with an average of 25 girls a day attending

Among the art and craft work made during the summer by the girls are colorful paper mobiles, some with fish and bell motifs, raffia baskets, painted gourds, papier mache articles, marbleized bottles and the puppets for the show.

The paintings completed this year, which enlivened the walls of the recreation field club house, show particular individuality and originality this year. Largely abstract, Mrs. Wilson said that she believed that they reflect the gay, self-expressive attitude of this generation. They have also designed a number of unique potato prints on wrapping paper.

Included in the exhibit are other craft items such as shell and bead jewelry painted salad knife and fork sets, soap carving and painted cigar boxes. In all, the summer group has explored a wide variety of creative activities.

Serving as hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Bruff Olin, president of the Public Health Nursing Committee, and Mrs. Anna Kamen. Mrs. Olin said that a box of plaster has been donated to the Woodstock School.

Kingston Schools Plan for Opening

The supervisory and administrative staff of the Kingston City Schools met with Superintendent Earl F. Soper Wednesday morning in the library of Kingston High School to participate in a general orientation session.

The group made plans for the opening of the city schools. A general faculty meeting is planned for 9:30 a. m. in the high school auditorium Tuesday, Sept. 6. Tuesday afternoon is set aside for orientation of new teachers in each building and faculty meetings conducted by building principals. Students at all levels report at 8:30 on Wednesday, Sept. 7. Kindergarten conferences for parents will be held Tuesday afternoon, or Wednesday through Friday. Parents will be notified by building principals. All students who have not registered should report to the proper school for registration on Wednesday morning.

SUPERINTENDENT SOPER explained the administrative organization of the school and announced the formation of the superintendent's cabinet which has the status of elective memberships including: M. Clifford Miller, principal of the high school; Stephen G. Hyatt, principal of Myron J. Michael school; Robert S. Macdonald, administrative assistant; Mrs. Marian P. Gregory, elementary supervisor; William R. Reardon, principal of No. 6 and 8 schools and A. J. Boyd, principal of George Washington school.

This group serves as an administrative council and will advise the superintendent.

A SECONDARY administrative and supervisory organization was established for the high school under the principal, M. Clifford Miller, to act as an advisory group to the principal. Directors of departments, the vice principal, and the MJM principal will be members.

The elementary principals and the elementary supervisors formed the elementary cabinet. In its organization this group elected Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh chairman and Mrs. Frieda L. Dingee, secretary. The group will handle administrative problems of the elementary schools and launch supervisory studies. They elected to meet twice a month to deal with such problems. Areas receiving early attention will be spelling, sixth grade social studies and the kindergarten curriculum. Mrs. Marian Gregory was authorized to confer as soon as convenient with each new teacher for an orientation session.

MR. SOPER AUTHORIZED the creation of a teacher council for the Kington City Schools. Most elementary schools will elect one representative. George will have two representatives while Kingston High will have four representatives. It is the plan that the teacher council will advise the superintendent on teacher questions and sponsor worthy aesthetic and educational activities.

The next general faculty meeting will be held after school on Wednesday, Sept. 7, at which time the faculty will hear of the personnel survey recently approved by the Kingston Board of Education, pending staff approval. Dr. Frederich L. Redefer of New York University will present an explanation of the personnel proposal to the staff.

In addition to Superintendent Soper, those in attendance were Frank B. Ratcliff, Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh, John J. Finerty Jr., William R. Reardon, James E. Tobin, M. Clifford Miller, Miss Mary E. Polhemus, Mrs. Frieda L. Dingee, Mrs. Marian P. Gregory, Leonard Stine, Hubert Hoderath, Stephen G. Hyatt, A. J. Boyd, Robert S. Macdonald, G. Warren Kias, Warren A. Russell and J. Watson Bailey.

EXPENSIVE HOBBY

A wife tells me: "My husband is very much interested in photography and takes pictures wherever we go. He is often asked by friends and by people we have just met, to send them copies of certain pictures after they are developed: I would like to know if it would be proper to send the negatives so that they may have prints made themselves, or must we send the developed pictures.?"

To send them the negatives would be not only proper but just. Otherwise it could become an embarrassing extravagance.

Nondrinker at Cocktail Party

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be wrong to go to a cocktail party if one does not drink? Quite often I receive invitations to cocktail parties and in the past have turned them down because I did not think it would be right for me to go. However, by staying away I am missing the opportunity of seeing many of my friends and also meeting new ones. I would appreciate your advice on this matter.

Answer: Certainly you can go—it does not obligate you to drink. If you refuse to go, it is very disapproving. If you go you are approving of it for others even though you yourself don't take a drink.

Wife of Clergy

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to invite the wife of the officiating clergyman to a house wedding, where the guest list is limited to the immediate families and fewest friends of the bride and groom? The ceremony will be followed by a buffet supper.

Answer: Under usual circumstances she is always included. But if the wedding is very small and she happens to be unknown to you, it would not be considered discourteous to invite the clergyman to remain alone after the ceremony.

Do you know how to reply to an introduction? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," includes this information. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Explorer Scout Tells of Jamboree Fun and Activity

Explorer Robert Bull of Marlborough, Rip Van Winkle Council representative to the International Jamboree sent the following letter to local Scout Executive George V. Dennis reporting on his experiences.

"On Tuesday, Aug. 16, our Jamboree troop went for a cruise of the Thousand Islands. Our cruise was different than usual. We ran into heavy fog at about the halfway point and had to alter course accordingly. The boat stopped for a half hour at Boldt Castle. At the beginning of the century, Mr. Boldt decided to build this castle for his wife. However, when she died he stopped work immediately. All the external structure had been completed, but the inside is still incomplete. A company bought the castle and opened it to visitors just as the day work was stopped. Upon completion of the cruise, the troop headed for Camp Samac, Oshawa, Ontario. We were very warmly received at the camp by the Canadian scouts. They invited us to their Campfire and a get-together afterward.

"ON THURSDAY MORNING, Aug. 18, we proceeded directly to the Jamboree. The campsite was set up in about two hours. After supper the troop went trading. Our patrol met a Scottish troop from Edinburgh. We are going to invite one of their patrols to dine with us some evening.

"Friday, Aug. 19. The morning was spent mainly in arranging out gateway and fence. The gateway consists of eighteen plaques, one from each Council represented in the troop. On the rope fence enclosing our area are the flags of the participating nations of the Jamboree. No Soviet flag is flying. In the afternoon everyone went trading.

"Saturday, Aug. 2. This was the day of the grand opening. All the participating scouts from each contingent, except one scout who was left in each troopsite, were assembled in the arena. The day was very hot and with the loose quarters in the arena, everyone was uncomfortable. The Jamboree was officially declared open by Vincent Massey, Governor-General and Chief Scout of Canada. After the opening, the scouts marched in a parade around the Jamboree site.

"Sunday, Aug. 21. All the scouts of our troop went to church services. There was a general Protestant service in the main arena. In the afternoon, no one from the troop was permitted to go out because the fellows from Pakistan were coming over to cook us their national dish and dine with us. The meal was very good, however, I cannot say that I would like to have it every day. It consisted of meat, rice, onions, and spices. The Pakistan people, the scouts told us, have great respect for the Americans. All their scouts here speak at least five languages, but English is the only European one."

The return of the real hat as fall companion for clothes with a slim look is evident in the hats we show here. Big bonnet (upper left) combines black and white plumage over orange wool jersey. Chanda has jet-sequinned the black feathers. Sally Victor uses gleaming blue panne velvet (upper center) for a sculptured hat with seashell look. Elaborately draped chignon pillbox in cognac velvet (upper right) is by Adolfo of Emme. White winter felt hat (lower left) has brim appliqued with apron of brown-and-white ponyskin. This design is by Laddie Northridge. Nutria is used by Walter Florell for golden honey pillbox and muff (lower center). Hat is trimmed with many-colored quill. Oriental influence appears in turban (lower right) by Chanda. Spangles and jewels highlight jewel-toned chenille alternated with gilt ricrac braid in a hat that hides the hair and displays the profile.

A New Definition of Love For Fathers and Mothers

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A new fashion makes news for women. A new bug makes news for entomologists. For fathers and mothers of children, news is made by a new definition of love.

News for us was made this week by the publication of Dr. Erich Fromm's new book "The Sane Society." For in it, this internationally noted teacher of psychoanalysis, compressing his years of experience and research into the nature of love, re-defines it for us. He writes: "Love is union with somebody or something outside of oneself under the condition of retaining the separateness and integrity of one's own self."

If we loved children with the "separateness" of this new definition, we could bring in the millenium.

Lack of it causes 98 per cent of our problems.

In its most destructive form, you can see lack of "separateness" at work any day in any children's court.

Before the judge stand a mother and child. They are one in numbed anger and shame. They're so one you couldn't insert a knife between them. So without distinction is the mother from the child that the child has virtually disappeared to her. She is the child. The bad thing the child has done is the bad thing she did.

So there's hate in her, not love—as must inevitably be the case when our dignity is embedded in another person. For of course, unless we're his Siamese twin, we cannot govern everything he may choose to do with the dignity we've handed over to him.

In milder form, lack of "separateness" accounts for the anger with which we just punished Jimmy for trampling a neighbor's grass seed. It turned the young footprints displayed by the wrathful neighbor into our footprints. It made Jimmy's carelessness in retrieving his ball our carelessness.

In our frustration with guilt for footprints and carelessness that were not ours, we slapped Jimmy. We sent him to bed without lunch. We felt a flash of hate for Jimmy.

Love without "separateness" is cruelly unjust. We do not throw balls carelessly. We do not trample grass seed. We are not Jimmy. We are ourselves—and the actions he takes are as different from those we take as the years of different experience between us. Had we known this, we could have corrected Jimmy's kindly and more completely.

"If the need of fusion were realized in parental love," writes Dr. Fromm, "it would mean the destruction of the child as an independent being."

To attend a children's court is to see that it means the destruction of parents, too. We cannot love a child without detachment from him. Until we can obey love's command for "separateness", he is a secret threat and burden to us.

The grand master and other officers of the organization, a Christian religious order of masonry, were installed yesterday at the close of the week-long 46th Triennial Conclave of the Grand Encampment. Some 500 persons witnessed the ceremony in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

General De Lamater was installed by Sir Knight C. Byron Lear, of Ho-Ho-Kus, N. J., past grand generalissimo of the Grand Encampment. Other elected officers were installed by the out-going grand master, William Catron Gordon, of Marshall, Mo.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

John Bruck sent me a very interesting item, that happened just 50 years ago. Perhaps some of the old timers will remember it. He writes: "On August 23rd, 1905, Weiner Hose Co. No. 6 was leaving for a three-day trip to Binghamton as guests of the Crystal Hose Co. No. 1, who at that time was celebrating its 50th annual parade anniversary. We left the engine house, (which at that time was between Foxhall avenue and Grand street on Hasbrouck avenue) and marched to the Rondout station of the Ulster and Delaware where we had a chartered train. The train consisted of two passenger coaches for the company of 45 men and the 20th Regiment Band of 25 men under the leadership of Professor Mueller. In addition, there was one baggage car for our parade carriage and refreshments. We left about 10 o'clock and arrived in Binghamton at 4 o'clock."

Mr. Bruck continues: "At the station we were met by the city mayor, his staff and committeemen from Crystal Hose. We were then escorted to Binghamton's leading hotel, the Arlington which served as our headquarters during our three-day's stay. That evening the band gave a concert in front of the hotel, proving a tremendous success from the large crowd which gathered. The following day, the parade was held and to my belief, no fire company, in any line of march received so much applause. Our uniforms were cream colored, and the long coats had a bright red lining. Our helmets were white and our service hats were carried at the side of our belts.

"The carriage which we paraded had been won previously at a raffle from Crystal Hose. This is now in the Exempt Firemen's Home at Hudson. We returned from our trip on August 25th, arriving in Kingston at about 6 p. m. Our total assessment for the entire three-day outing was $13 per man. Imagine what a trip, lodging, food and entertainment for that period would cost today. The Crystal Hose is still active. This year they will be celebrating their 100th parade anniversary.

I would like to hear from others who remember that weekend. Perhaps some folks from Kingston will again be guests of the Crystal Hose Co., this year. No doubt, Mr. Bruck did not want to make the story too long, and still include all the important events, such as the carriage which was won at a raffle from the Crystal Hose and now at the Huson Home. Come to think of it, we have no one place where old fire equipment is exhibited in Kingston. No doubt the Exempt Firemen's Home has various items such as the carriage. Perhaps some day our Kingston library will be enlarged to include more exhibits. The Kingston High School did not allow for much exhibit room, that is permanent glass enclosed items. I do not know about the George Washington School or the new field house. There are a lot of folks living in and around Kingston who have been handed down local historical items and do not know what to do with them. It would be interesting if there would be a clearing house where these items could be judged, marked properly and placed in various public buildings. Also folks make collections of various local items, even frame them or have them in small glass show-cases and sometimes their children's children do not know what to do with them, and hate to dipose of them without first trying to place them somewhere for permanent exhibition.

In the play of today's hand South won a finesse and lost his slam contract. If he had been wise, he would have lost the finesse and made his slam!

West led the king of clubs, and South won with the ace. Declarer led a diamond to the king and returned a trump to win a finesse with the queen. Flushed with the success of this maneuver, South led another diamond to dummy's ace and took a second trump finesse. He then led out the ace of trumps to drop East's king.

Only at this stage did South wonder what he was going to do with all of the losing cards in his hand. He could ruff one heart in dummy, but would still have three losing hearts and a losing club. South eventually went down three!

South was on the right track when he took the ace of clubs and entered dummy with a diamond to take a trump finesse. That, however, was the end of his finessing for the day if he played the hand correctly.

South should next lay down the ace of trumps, thus setting up East's king. The next step is to lead a diamond to the ace and ruff a diamond, establishing the rest of dummy's long suit.

Now South ruffs a heart with dummy's third trump and begins to run the diamonds. Declarer's first discard is a club, and he doesn't care when East ruffs. If East ruffs, South will eventually ruff another heart in dummy and run the rest of the diamonds. If East fails to ruff, South discards the club and two hearts, after which he can ruff a club and ruff his last heart with dummy's last trump. East cannot set the slam even though he wins a trick with the king of trumps.

A study of typing operations shows that the average typist has about 268,000 carriage returns a year to return the machine to the left hand margin.

Kingston Schools Plan for Opening

The supervisory and administrative staff of the Kingston City Schools met with Superintendent Earl F. Soper Wednesday morning in the library of Kingston High School to participate in a general orientation session.

The group made plans for the opening of the city schools. A general faculty meeting is planned for 9:30 a. m. in the high school auditorium Tuesday, Sept. 6. Tuesday afternoon is set aside for orientation of new teachers in each building and faculty meetings conducted by building principals. Students at all levels report at 8:30 on Wednesday, Sept. 7. Kindergarten conferences for parents will be held Tuesday afternoon, or Wednesday through Friday. Parents will be notified by building principals. All students who have not registered should report to the proper school for registration on Wednesday morning.

SUPERINTENDENT SOPER explained the administrative organization of the school and announced the formation of the superintendent's cabinet which has the status of elective memberships including: M. Clifford Miller, principal of the high school; Stephen G. Hyatt, principal of Myron J. Michael school; Robert S. Macdonald, administrative assistant; Mrs. Marian P. Gregory, elementary supervisor; William R. Reardon, principal of No. 6 and 8 schools and A. J. Boyd, principal of George Washington school.

This group serves as an administrative council and will advise the superintendent.

A SECONDARY administrative and supervisory organization was established for the high school under the principal, M. Clifford Miller, to act as an advisory group to the principal. Directors of departments, the vice principal, and the MJM principal will be members.

The elementary principals and the elementary supervisors formed the elementary cabinet. In its organization this group elected Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh chairman and Mrs. Frieda L. Dingee, secretary. The group will handle administrative problems of the elementary schools and launch supervisory studies. They elected to meet twice a month to deal with such problems. Areas receiving early attention will be spelling, sixth grade social studies and the kindergarten curriculum. Mrs. Marian Gregory was authorized to confer as soon as convenient with each new teacher for an orientation session.

MR. SOPER AUTHORIZED the creation of a teacher council for the Kington City Schools. Most elementary schools will elect one representative. George will have two representatives while Kingston High will have four representatives. It is the plan that the teacher council will advise the superintendent on teacher questions and sponsor worthy aesthetic and educational activities.

The next general faculty meeting will be held after school on Wednesday, Sept. 7, at which time the faculty will hear of the personnel survey recently approved by the Kingston Board of Education, pending staff approval. Dr. Frederich L. Redefer of New York University will present an explanation of the personnel proposal to the staff.

In addition to Superintendent Soper, those in attendance were Frank B. Ratcliff, Raymond H. Van Valkenburgh, John J. Finerty Jr., William R. Reardon, James E. Tobin, M. Clifford Miller, Miss Mary E. Polhemus, Mrs. Frieda L. Dingee, Mrs. Marian P. Gregory, Leonard Stine, Hubert Hoderath, Stephen G. Hyatt, A. J. Boyd, Robert S. Macdonald, G. Warren Kias, Warren A. Russell and J. Watson Bailey.

EXPENSIVE HOBBY

A wife tells me: "My husband is very much interested in photography and takes pictures wherever we go. He is often asked by friends and by people we have just met, to send them copies of certain pictures after they are developed: I would like to know if it would be proper to send the negatives so that they may have prints made themselves, or must we send the developed pictures.?"

To send them the negatives would be not only proper but just. Otherwise it could become an embarrassing extravagance.

Nondrinker at Cocktail Party

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be wrong to go to a cocktail party if one does not drink? Quite often I receive invitations to cocktail parties and in the past have turned them down because I did not think it would be right for me to go. However, by staying away I am missing the opportunity of seeing many of my friends and also meeting new ones. I would appreciate your advice on this matter.

Answer: Certainly you can go—it does not obligate you to drink. If you refuse to go, it is very disapproving. If you go you are approving of it for others even though you yourself don't take a drink.

Wife of Clergy

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to invite the wife of the officiating clergyman to a house wedding, where the guest list is limited to the immediate families and fewest friends of the bride and groom? The ceremony will be followed by a buffet supper.

Answer: Under usual circumstances she is always included. But if the wedding is very small and she happens to be unknown to you, it would not be considered discourteous to invite the clergyman to remain alone after the ceremony.

Do you know how to reply to an introduction? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," includes this information. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Explorer Scout Tells of Jamboree Fun and Activity

Explorer Robert Bull of Marlborough, Rip Van Winkle Council representative to the Inter-National Jamboree sent the following letter to local Scout Executive George V. Dennis reporting on his experiences.

"On Tuesday, Aug. 16, our Jamboree troop went for a cruise of the Thousand Islands. Our cruise was different than usual. We ran into heavy fog at about the halfway point and had to alter course accordingly. The boat stopped for a half hour at Boldt Castle. At the beginning of the century, Mr. Boldt decided to build this castle for his wife. However, when she died he stopped work immediately. All the external structure had been completed, but the inside is still incomplete. A company bought the castle and opened it to visitors just as the day work was stopped. Upon completion of the cruise, the troop headed for Camp Samac, Oshawa, Ontario. We were very warmly received at the camp by the Canadian scouts. They invited us to their Campfire and a get-together afterward.

"ON THURSDAY MORNING, Aug. 18, we proceeded directly to the Jamboree. The campsite was set up in about two hours. After supper the troop went trading. Our patrol met a Scottish troop from Edinburgh. We are going to invite one of their patrols to dine with us some evening.

"Friday, Aug. 19. The morning was spent mainly in arranging out gateway and fence. The gateway consists of eighteen plaques, one from each Council represented in the troop. On the rope fence enclosing our area are the flags of the participating nations of the Jamboree, No Soviet flag is flying. In the afternoon everyone went trading.

"Saturday, Aug. 2. This was the day of the grand opening. All the participating scouts from each contingent, except one scout who was left in each troopsite, were assembled in the arena. That evening the band gave a concert in front of the hotel, proving a tremendous success from the large crowd which gathered. The following day, the parade was held and to my belief, no fire company, in any line of march received so much applause. Our uniforms were cream colored, and the long coats had a bright red lining. Our helmets were white and our service hats were carried at the side of our belts.

"The carriage which we paraded had been won previously at a raffle from Crystal Hose. This is now in the Exempt Firemen's Home at Hudson. We returned from our trip on August 25th, arriving in Kingston at about 6 p. m. Our total assessment for the entire three-day outing was $13 per man. Imagine what a trip, lodging, food and entertainment for that period would cost today. The Crystal Hose is still active. This year they will be celebrating their 100th parade anniversary.

I would like to hear from others who remember that weekend. Perhaps some folks from Kingston will again be guests of the Crystal Hose Co., this year. No doubt, Mr. Bruck did not want to make the story too long, and still include all the important events, such as the carriage which was won at a raffle from the Crystal Hose and now at the Huson Home. Come to think of it, we have no one place where old fire equipment is exhibited in Kingston. No doubt the Exempt Firemen's Home has various items such as the carriage. Perhaps some day our Kingston library will be enlarged to include more exhibits. The Kingston High School did not allow for much exhibit room, that is permanent glass enclosed items. I do not know about the George Washington School or the new field house. There are a lot of folks living in and around Kingston who have been handed down local historical items and do not know what to do with them. It would be interesting if there would be a clearing house where these items could be judged, marked properly and placed in various public buildings. Also folks make collections of various local items, even frame them or have them in small glass show-cases and sometimes their children's children do not know what to do with them, and hate to dipose of them without first trying to place them somewhere for permanent exhibition.

In the play of today's hand South won a finesse and lost his slam contract. If he had been wise, he would have lost the finesse and made his slam!

West led the king of clubs, and South won with the ace. Declarer led a diamond to the king and returned a trump to win a finesse with the queen. Flushed with the success of this maneuver, South led another diamond to dummy's ace and took a second trump finesse. He then led out the ace of trumps to drop East's king.

Only at this stage did South wonder what he was going to do with all of the losing cards in his hand. He could ruff one heart in dummy, but would still have three losing hearts and a losing club. South eventually went down three!

South was on the right track when he took the ace of clubs and entered dummy with a diamond to take a trump finesse. That, however, was the end of his finessing for the day if he played the hand correctly.

South should next lay down the ace of trumps, thus setting up East's king. The next step is to lead a diamond to the ace and ruff a diamond, establishing the rest of dummy's long suit.

Now South ruffs a heart with dummy's third trump and begins to run the diamonds. Declarer's first discard is a club, and he doesn't care when East ruffs. If East ruffs, South will eventually ruff another heart in dummy and run the rest of the diamonds. If East fails to ruff, South discards the club and two hearts, after which he can ruff a club and ruff his last heart with dummy's last trump. East cannot set the slam even though he wins a trick with the king of trumps.

A study of typing operations shows that the average typist has about 268,000 carriage returns a year to return the machine to the left hand margin.

Deadlock Is Seen In Negotiations For Releasing 41

Washington, Aug. 27 (AP)—A new layoff in the Geneva negotiations for release by Red China of 41 American civilians is seen here as indicating the talks have reached a complete deadlock.

A meeting between U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan had been scheduled for today but Johnson called for a postponement until next Wednesday.

JOHNSON WAS said to feel that nothing could be gained at a meeting in which both countries would repeat arguments already fully presented.

U. S. officials were reported determined to keep the talks going, in the hope of an eventual agreement, but it was understood further delays can be expected.

Of the 41 Americans known to be in Red China against their will, 25 are in prison, 12 under house arrest and 4 detained for lack of official permission to leave.

ONE PROBLEM facing the Geneva negotiations involves the 25 held in prison. The U. S. position is that they are held on largely political charges and should be freed forthwith. Red China's position appears to be that they cannot be released without further judicial action.

As for Chinese nationals in the United States, Secretary of State Dulles has said they may leave anytime they wish. Red China has proposed that a third country, such as India, determine whether they actually have a free choice.

The U. S. government would balk at formal arrangements for an investigation by a third country because this would imply a recognition of Red China. However, it is understood there would be no objection should the Indian embassy here handle the matter on an informal basis.

Downed Airman Has Fractured Skull

Tokyo, Aug. 27 (AP)—Lt. Guy H. Bumpass was flown here from Seoul today with a severe compound skull fracture, suffered when he was shot down by Red Korean gunners near the demilitarized zone Aug. 17.

Today's announcement was the first official U. S. confirmation of the Communist claim that Bumpass had a fractured skull. Since his return from the Reds last Tuesday, U. S. Army doctors air force information officers have said only that he had "head cuts." Bumpass has been isolated in a military hospital.

Col. W. S. Evans, information officer for Far East Air Forces headquarters in Tokyo, said he thought Bumpass would be sufficiently recovered to hold a new conference Tuesday.

Road Blocks Will Bar Curious in Bay State Visits

Boston, Aug. 27 (AP) — Road blocks were set up today in central and western Massachusetts to bar sight-seeing motorists from flood stricken areas over the weekend.

State police said only the most necessary trips should be attempted and that motorists will be barred from several communities.

HEAVY MOTOR traffic on side roads pressed into emergency service as detours have caused ruts in many places. There also was the threat of underground washouts.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks toured flood areas yesterday and promised to look into the possibility of disaster insurance for private homes and industry.

He said his department "will take a good hard look at some form of disaster insurance if it is possible to work out one on some acturial basis."

HE SAID HIS department's first interest is in getting industries back in business.

Many private insurance firms now have flood policies, but Weeks said the premium costs would be "prohibitive" to most home owners and small businessmen.

Gov. Herter flew over Southbridge yesterday and said of the devastation: "It is the worst I have ever seen."

The Agriculture Department says huge stocks of government foods have been made available for flood victims. The foods include butter, cheese, dry milk, beans, rice and shortening.

Coast Man Slain On Wedding Eve

Palm Springs, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP) — City building inspector Donald E. Graham was found slain yesterday on the eve of his planned marriage and while his fiancee was flying west for the wedding.

Police Chief August G. Kettman said robbery apparently was the murder motive, for Graham sometimes carried large sums of money and was known to have been on a round of night clubs Thursday night, probably in celebration of his impending marriage.

GRAHAM, 60, a widower, was known as a friendly, convivial man. His fiancee, Mrs. Marie Everett, 47, Pittsburgh, Pa., divorcee, arrived at Los Angeles International Airport last night, expecting to be met by Graham.

Instead, she was met by Policeman Nick Mass and Miss Lyn Waite, Graham's secretary, who told her what happened. She collapsed. Then she sobbed: "He wrote me every day. He didn't have an enemy in the world."

SHE SAID she had been in Germany visiting a son. She and Graham had planned to be married next week, she said, and go to Yellowstone National Park on their honeymoon.

Graham's body was found yesterday in the blood-spattered kitchen of his home where he lived alone. A sheet, twisted around his neck, also was knotted around his hands behind his back. There was preliminary indication of strangulation, but an autopsy was ordered for today.

Wartime Deserter Has Sentence Cut 25 to Four Years

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—A wartime deserter, who since has led an exemplary life, has had his court-martial sentenced reduced from 25 to 4 years.

Arthur Athans, now 35, deserted in 1944 while serving a five-year term at Fort Knox, Ky., for being absent without leave.

TAKING the name of Joseph Trainer, he opened an auto agency at Falconer, N. Y., married, and has five children ranging in age from eight years to 10 months old.

Seized by army investigators last May, Athans interrupted his court-martial on July 28 to plead guilty to desertion. He was sentenced to 25 years at hard labor.

Meanwhile hundreds of friends and neighbors in Jamestown, N. Y., near Falconer, pleaded that Athans had been "an exemplary, forthright citizen these many years."

Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Herren, commanding general of the First Army, yesterday reduced Athan's sentence to four years after reviewing the case.

BUT, HERREN ruled, "the further penalties of dishonorable discharge from the service and forfeiture of all pay and allowances assessed by the court still apply."

A record of the trial has been forwarded to the judge advocate general of the army for further review. Pending the second review, Athans will be confined to the U. S. disciplinary barracks in New Cumberland, Pa.

Athans was drafted into the army in 1942 at Buffalo, N. Y.

His wife says he never told her about his past.

Mutiny Reported On Swedish Ship

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 27 (AP) — The 1,870-ton Swedish freighter Dorotea flashed a distress call from mid-Atlantic today that she had "crew trouble" aboard and the captain was being kept prisoner in his cabin.

The brief appeal from the radio operator of the Dorotea—en route from Barzil to South Africa—was picked up by a Capetown coastal radio station. An unidentified vessel near the Dorotea also intercepted the call and relayed it to the Goteborg radio station on Sweden's west coast.

(Lloyd's of London also reported picking up the call.)

Erik Hogberg, managing director of the Dorotea's owners, Rederi A. B. Manhem, said he could not comment until he received further word about the reported mutiny.

The captain aboard the Dorotea was identified as J. A. Bolenius.

Jelke Transferred To Green Haven Prison

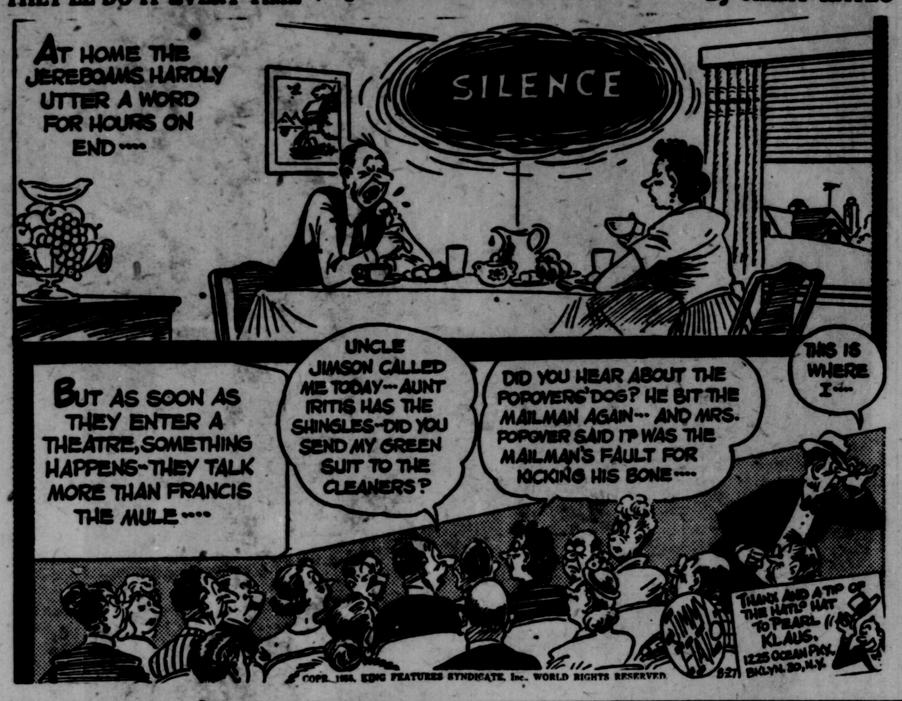

Ossining, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, oleomargarine heir convicted of compulsory prostitution, has been transferred from Sing Sing Prison to Green Haven Prison in Dutchess county.

Sing Sing officials yesterday disclosed the transfer of Jelke, serving a two to three-year sentence. At the Westchester county prison he was an assistant waiter.

Strike Called Off

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—A wildcat strike of 7,500 workers at the big Henschel locomotive works in Kassel was called off today after a four-day walkout for higher wages. Strike leaders told the workers to report back on the job Monday and said they hoped to start negotiations soon for pay boosts. It was the first break in a rash of wildcat strikes in West Germany which still left two big shipyards in Hamburg shut down and 12,000 workers idle.

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: It looks like a happy career for Jill Corey. The cute-as-a-button Columbia singer is now comfortably settled (for the moment) in California, where she's a regular on the new Johnny Carson show. And she's testing for the movies. And, what excites her most—she has a swimming pool! Complete with water.

You who only know pretty, perky Peggy King from her appearances on the George Gobel show, beware! The real Peggy King is a far cry from the wide-eyed childlike little thing who appears with Lonesome George. This is a solid hunk of woman and the sooner we all realize it, the better.

In her nightclub act, for example, she sings "Whatever Lola Wants" with gestures and then adds, "See, I told George Gobel I can be sexy."

She can. And one of these days she's liable to get hot on records and then, Pati Page and Joni James and Sarah Vaughan, watch out. Because all Peggy needs is the right song. Her Columbia boss, Mitch Miller, says that Peggy has "flawless intonation," which isn't bad. Her figure's nice, too.

So far, she hasn't had a big record hit—unless you count the tomato sauce commercial that brought her to Miller's attention.

"I never thought that jingle would amount to anything," Peggy says. "I only did it for the $98 I got to make it. And I never thought about it again, because they didn't use it in California, where I live. Then I began to get calls from my friends in New York, asking if that was me.

"Then I got a call from a man who said he was Mitch Miller. I said, 'Sure, and I'm Snow White.' But it was Miller."

And from that tomato sauce commercial came the record contract, the Gobel show, movie offers and all sorts of things. Including 600 cans of tomato sauce, which pretty, perky Peggy got a little bored with before they were consumed.

She thinks one of the reasons for her success, of late, has been that she looks like she's ready to burst into tears.

"People seem to like that," she says. "There are two kinds of people—happy and unhappy. I'm an unhappy people."

But she's a happy unhappy people. She likes her work — she's been show business crazy since she was two, when "I would have blown up Ravenna, O., to get into show business" — and her California patio and her two daschunds and Miller and Gobel and especially acting.

I'm a better actress than a singer," she says. Which must place her on a par with Sarah Bernhardt.

Two Airmen Die, 14 Hurt as Bus Tire Blows Out

Nacogdoches, Tex., Aug. 27 (AP)—A tire blowout threw an air force bus into a deep dry creek yesterday, killing two and injuring 14 of the 16 airmen aboard.

An undetermined number of the 14 injured were reported critically hurt. All of the airmen were from Bryan (Tex.) Air Force Base and 14 were members of the base's baseball team, enroute to Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., to take part in a tournament.

TRAPPED in the wreckage and killed were A. 1.C. Lloyd D. Buresh, son of Mrs. Genevieve Audrey Buresh, Bolivar, Mo., and the bus driver, A. 1.C. James Clyde Kirkpatrick, son of Mrs. Mary A. Kirkpatrick, Bluff City, Tenn.

The right front tire blew out as the bus approached a bridge over a dry creek. The bus crashed through the bride rail and landed crossways in the creekbed, its front and rear solidly jammed into opposite banks of the creek. The injured had to crawl out windows or be helped out by rescuers.

Quake Is Felt

Arica, Chile, Aug. 27 (AP)—An earthquake of medium intensity was felt in this north Chilean city at 10:40 last night. There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage.

Chemical Plant Fire Causes $350,000 Loss

Pittsburgh, Aug. 27 (AP) — A large section of the Cargill Corp. chemical and oil plant near suburban Carnegie was destroyed last night by fire which followed a series of violent explosions.

So intense was the heat and so dangerous were exploding drums of chemicals that firemen battled until early today before extinguishing the fire.

Flames and smoke shot high into the sky for more than three hours before the fire was pronounced under control shortly after 11 p. m. (EDT).

Fire department officials estimated the loss at $350,000.

The first blast let loose in a 1,500 gallon resin thinning tank in the thinning department of the sprawling plant. Flames ignited three other big tanks. These contained a total of about 5,000 gallons of naptha and resin.

Body of Man Found

Galway, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The body of a 64-year-old man was found yesterday at the wheel of an automobile that had run off Route 147 near this Saratoga county community. His five-year-old grandson was sitting in the car, unhurt. State police said Percival G. Sheldon, a New York Central Railroad conductor, apparently had suffered a heart attack. The boy was identified as Mark Dane. Both were from Albany.

Police Chief August G. Kettman said robbery apparently was the murder motive, for Graham sometimes carried large sums of money and was known to have been on a round of night clubs Thursday night, probably in celebration of his impending marriage.

GRAHAM, 60, a widower, was known as a friendly, convivial man. His fiancee, Mrs. Marie Everett, 47, Pittsburgh, Pa., divorcee, arrived at Los Angeles International Airport last night, expecting to be met by Graham.

Instead, she was met by Policeman Nick Mass and Miss Lyn Waite, Graham's secretary, who told her what happened. She collapsed. Then she sobbed: "He wrote me every day. He didn't have an enemy in the world."

SHE SAID she had been in Germany visiting a son. She and Graham had planned to be married next week, she said, and go to Yellowstone National Park on their honeymoon.

Graham's body was found yesterday in the blood-spattered kitchen of his home where he lived alone. A sheet, twisted around his neck, also was knotted around his hands behind his back. There was preliminary indication of strangulation, but an autopsy was ordered for today.

Wartime Deserter Has Sentence Cut 25 to Four Years

New York, Aug. 27 (AP)—A wartime deserter, who since has led an exemplary life, has had his court-martial sentenced reduced from 25 to 4 years.

Arthur Athans, now 35, deserted in 1944 while serving a five-year term at Fort Knox, Ky., for being absent without leave.

TAKING the name of Joseph Trainer, he opened an auto agency at Falconer, N. Y., married, and has five children ranging in age from eight years to 10 months old.

Seized by army investigators last May, Athans interrupted his court-martial on July 28 to plead guilty to desertion. He was sentenced to 25 years at hard labor.

Meanwhile hundreds of friends and neighbors in Jamestown, N. Y., near Falconer, pleaded that Athans had been "an exemplary, forthright citizen these many years."

Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Herren, commanding general of the First Army, yesterday reduced Athan's sentence to four years after reviewing the case.

BUT, HERREN ruled, "the further penalties of dishonorable discharge from the service and forfeiture of all pay and allowances assessed by the court still apply."

A record of the trial has been forwarded to the judge advocate general of the army for further review. Pending the second review, Athans will be confined to the U. S. disciplinary barracks in New Cumberland, Pa.

Athans was drafted into the army in 1942 at Buffalo, N. Y.

His wife says he never told her about his past.

He was born in Pittsfield, Mass. Recently he was an agent for a brewing concern. Death was attributed to an esophageal hemorrhage.

Mutiny Reported On Swedish Ship

Stockholm, Sweden, Aug. 27 (AP) — The 1,870-ton Swedish freighter Dorotea flashed a distress call from mid-Atlantic today that she had "crew trouble" aboard and the captain was being kept prisoner in his cabin.

The brief appeal from the radio operator of the Dorotea—en route from Barzil to South Africa—was picked up by a Capetown coastal radio station. An unidentified vessel near the Dorotea also intercepted the call and relayed it to the Goteborg radio station on Sweden's west coast.

(Lloyd's of London also reported picking up the call.)

Erik Hogberg, managing director of the Dorotea's owners, Rederi A. B. Manhem, said he could not comment until he received further word about the reported mutiny.

The captain aboard the Dorotea was identified as J. A. Bolenius.

Jelke Transferred To Green Haven Prison

Ossining, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, oleomargarine heir convicted of compulsory prostitution, has been transferred from Sing Sing Prison to Green Haven Prison in Dutchess county.

Sing Sing officials yesterday disclosed the transfer of Jelke, serving a two to three-year sentence. At the Westchester county prison he was an assistant waiter.

Strike Called Off

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—A wildcat strike of 7,500 workers at the big Henschel locomotive works in Kassel was called off today after a four-day walkout for higher wages. Strike leaders told the workers to report back on the job Monday and said they hoped to start negotiations soon for pay boosts. It was the first break in a rash of wildcat strikes in West Germany which still left two big shipyards in Hamburg shut down and 12,000 workers idle.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: It looks like a happy career for Jill Corey. The cute-as-a-button Columbia singer is now comfortably settled (for the moment) in California, where she's a regular on the new Johnny Carson show. And she's testing for the movies. And, what excites her most—she has a swimming pool! Complete with water.

You who only know pretty, perky Peggy King from her appearances on the George Gobel show, beware! The real Peggy King is a far cry from the wide-eyed childlike little thing who appears with Lonesome George. This is a solid hunk of woman and the sooner we all realize it, the better.

In her nightclub act, for example, she sings "Whatever Lola Wants" with gestures and then adds, "See, I told George Gobel I can be sexy."

She can. And one of these days she's liable to get hot on records and then, Pati Page and Joni James and Sarah Vaughan, watch out. Because all Peggy needs is the right song. Her Columbia boss, Mitch Miller, says that Peggy has "flawless intonation," which isn't bad. Her figure's nice, too.

So far, she hasn't had a big record hit—unless you count the tomato sauce commercial that brought her to Miller's attention.

"I never thought that jingle would amount to anything," Peggy says. "I only did it for the $98 I got to make it. And I never thought about it again, because they didn't use it in California, where I live. Then I began to get calls from my friends in New York, asking if that was me.

"Then I got a call from a man who said he was Mitch Miller. I said, 'Sure, and I'm Snow White.' But it was Miller."

And from that tomato sauce commercial came the record contract, the Gobel show, movie offers and all sorts of things. Including 600 cans of tomato sauce, which pretty, perky Peggy got a little bored with before they were consumed.

She thinks one of the reasons for her success, of late, has been that she looks like she's ready to burst into tears.

"People seem to like that," she says. "There are two kinds of people—happy and unhappy. I'm an unhappy people."

But she's a happy unhappy people. She likes her work — she's been show business crazy since she was two, when "I would have blown up Ravenna, O., to get into show business" — and her California patio and her two daschunds and Miller and Gobel and especially acting.

I'm a better actress than a singer," she says. Which must place her on a par with Sarah Bernhardt.

Two Airmen Die, 14 Hurt as Bus Tire Blows Out

Nacogdoches, Tex., Aug. 27 (AP)—A tire blowout threw an air force bus into a deep dry creek yesterday, killing two and injuring 14 of the 16 airmen aboard.

An undetermined number of the 14 injured were reported critically hurt. All of the airmen were from Bryan (Tex.) Air Force Base and 14 were members of the base's baseball team, enroute to Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., to take part in a tournament.

TRAPPED in the wreckage and killed were A. 1.C. Lloyd D. Buresh, son of Mrs. Genevieve Audrey Buresh, Bolivar, Mo., and the bus driver, A. 1.C. James Clyde Kirkpatrick, son of Mrs. Mary A. Kirkpatrick, Bluff City, Tenn.

The right front tire blew out as the bus approached a bridge over a dry creek. The bus crashed through the bride rail and landed crossways in the creekbed, its front and rear solidly jammed into opposite banks of the creek. The injured had to crawl out windows or be helped out by rescuers.

Quake Is Felt

Arica, Chile, Aug. 27 (AP)—An earthquake of medium intensity was felt in this north Chilean city at 10:40 last night. There were no immediate reports of casualties or damage.

Chemical Plant Fire Causes $350,000 Loss

Pittsburgh, Aug. 27 (AP) — A large section of the Cargill Corp. chemical and oil plant near suburban Carnegie was destroyed last night by fire which followed a series of violent explosions.

So intense was the heat and so dangerous were exploding drums of chemicals that firemen battled until early today before extinguishing the fire.

Flames and smoke shot high into the sky for more than three hours before the fire was pronounced under control shortly after 11 p. m. (EDT).

Fire department officials estimated the loss at $350,000.

The first blast let loose in a 1,500 gallon resin thinning tank in the thinning department of the sprawling plant. Flames ignited three other big tanks. These contained a total of about 5,000 gallons of naptha and resin.

Body of Man Found

Galway, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The body of a 64-year-old man was found yesterday at the wheel of an automobile that had run off Route 147 near this Saratoga county community. His five-year-old grandson was sitting in the car, unhurt. State police said Percival G. Sheldon, a New York Central Railroad conductor, apparently had suffered a heart attack. The boy was identified as Mark Dane. Both were from Albany.

High Bedroom Windows Can Be Drawbacks, Too

High windows in bedrooms can have drawbacks as well as advantages.

They are designed to increase wall space — to make it possible to place the heads of beds against any wall except those broken by doors or closets.

Being shoulder high, they insure privacy, requiring no blinds at all.

On the other hand, they may let in too much moonlight for your taste, and provide an excess of ventilation over your head.

Directions for Repairing Cracks in Stucco Walls

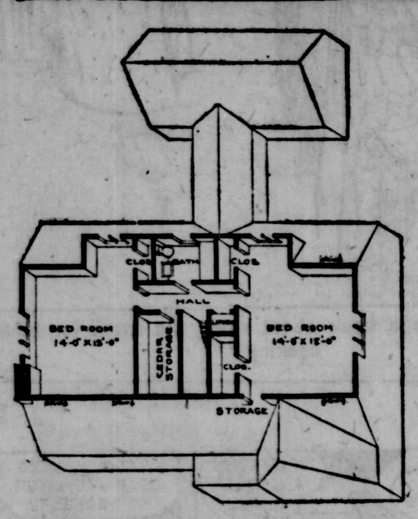

Cracks in stucco walls can be patched by cutting out the crack with a cold chisel so that the inside is wider than the outside, cleaning and wetting down the opening and then packing with ready-mixed stucco which is sold at hardware stores. Keep the fresh patch damp and covered for several days.

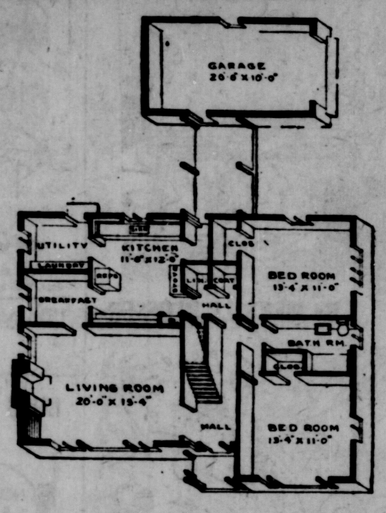

Idea for Closets

To keep clothes hangers from jamming together on a closet rod, cut evenly spaced grooves across the top of the rod to hold the hangers in place.

Fernville Architecture Is Timeless

Rooms	Nine
Bedrooms	Four
Closets	Eight
Cubage
House	45,200 ft.
Garage	4,000 ft.
Dimensions	42' x 27'

Called "The Fernville," today's offering from the Home of the Week Plan Service is a design that will always be "in style." And, because it has two floors—the second can be finished at your convenience—this six-room house will meet the approval of many prospective home builders.

With a house of this type the choice of exterior finish largely depends on your preference. Brick, as used in the accompanying illustration, is especially appropriate and attractive. Measuring 42 by 27 feet, this house can be built on a 65-foot lot and will give you lots of living space in a small area. Cubage is 45,200 feet; garage 4000.

Both first floor bedrooms — in the right wing of the house —are of good size. Each room features cross-ventilation and plenty of closet space.

About Dining Room

No dining room proper is provided for in the plan; but one of these bedrooms can be converted into a dining room if you wish — after the second-story sleeping rooms have been completed. Until such time, or permanently, the spacious living room can very conveniently do double duty.

Built-in bookshelves, an abundance of windows, and the large fireplace all lend pleasing decorative touches to the living room.

Thoroughly modern, the kitchen is planned for comfort as well as work. The unusually large breakfast nook can be used for many family meals. Decorative ingenuity can do a great deal to turn this breakfast nook into a charming room where the family will all the more enjoy sitting down for meals or snacks.

Laundry

Your entire home laundry can be installed in the first floor utility room. Plenty of light and ventilation make the utility room a pleasant place in which to work. You'll appreciate the ease with which you can reach the back yard from this room.

Another important feature of this house is the wealth of storage space throughout. A large cedar closet is suggested on the second floor, and the under-the-eaves storage sections are ideal places to keep all types of household articles.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24 and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

3 Causes Given For Stucco Cracks

There are three common causes of stucco cracks. They may develop if the house settles. Improper mixing or application of the stucco is another cause. Or cracks may appear if there is any movement of the lath or other base to which the stucco has been applied.

Metal lath, instead of wood, should always be used in stucco work. If moisture penetrates to wood lath it will expand and something will have to give. Usually it's the stucco.

Here's a Color Plan For a Smart Kitchen

Copper, rose, white and russet brown provide the color scheme for a smart and gleaming kitchen that's as attracive as it is efficient. The white appears on the smoothly finished kitchen appliances and the outer surfaces of the cupboards and storage cabinets. The rose tone that blends with the gleaming copper utensils which hang on the wall is provided by the paint on the ceiling and wall areas above the cabinets. Inner surfaces of cupboards, as well as the canisters and bread boxes, are also enameled to match the ceiling. The floor covering introduced the russet tone.

Make Sure of Enough Specially Mixed Paint

When you're painting the walls of a room with an unusual, specially-mixed color, make sure that you have sufficient paint before you begin. If you suddenly discover that your supply is inadequate, however, stop at the end of one wall and do not start another until you obtain an additional supply which is matched to a wet sample of the paint.

Apply Wood Filler to 'Open-Grain' Flooring

Some woods used for flooring have an "open grain" which must be filled before they are varnished, shellacked or waxed. If such a filler is not applied to the open cells, a pitted, uneven surface results. Wood filler is a soft paste which is obtainable in several colors. Filler, thinned to the consistency of cream with petroleum thinner or turpentine, is applied to the wood with a brush. When, in a few minutes, the filler turns dull, wipe it off across the grain with a wad of excelsior or burlap. Don't tackle more than a square yard of surface at a time.

Tips on the Proper Use of Paintbrush

Remember never to overburden a brush when you dip it into a paint can. Apply paint from the ends — not the sides of the bristle. Use a smooth back and forth stroke. In starting to paint a wall, it's usually a good idea to begin in the upper left hand corner and work to the right.

Paint Baseboard Last

When painting a room, always do the baseboard last. And to help keep the brush clean and protect the floor from paint, keep a piece of stiff cardboard between the floor and the brush.

3 Causes Given For Stucco Cracks

There are three common causes of stucco cracks. They may develop if the house settles. Improper mixing or application of the stucco is another cause. Or cracks may appear if there is any movement of the lath or other base to which the stucco has been applied.

Metal lath, instead of wood, should always be used in stucco work. If moisture penetrates to wood lath it will expand and something will have to give. Usually it's the stucco.

Here's a Color Plan For a Smart Kitchen

Copper, rose, white and russet brown provide the color scheme for a smart and gleaming kitchen that's as attracive as it is efficient. The white appears on the smoothly finished kitchen appliances and the outer surfaces of the cupboards and storage cabinets. The rose tone that blends with the gleaming copper utensils which hang on the wall is provided by the paint on the ceiling and wall areas above the cabinets. Inner surfaces of cupboards, as well as the canisters and bread boxes, are also enameled to match the ceiling. The floor covering introduced the russet tone.

Make Sure of Enough Specially Mixed Paint

When you're painting the walls of a room with an unusual, specially-mixed color, make sure that you have sufficient paint before you begin. If you suddenly discover that your supply is inadequate, however, stop at the end of one wall and do not start another until you obtain an additional supply which is matched to a wet sample of the paint.

Apply Wood Filler to 'Open-Grain' Flooring

Some woods used for flooring have an "open grain" which must be filled before they are varnished, shellacked or waxed. If such a filler is not applied to the open cells, a pitted, uneven surface results. Wood filler is a soft paste which is obtainable in several colors. Filler, thinned to the consistency of cream with petroleum thinner or turpentine, is applied to the wood with a brush. When, in a few minutes, the filler turns dull, wipe it off across the grain with a wad of excelsior or burlap. Don't tackle more than a square yard of surface at a time.

Tips on the Proper Use of Paintbrush

Remember never to overburden a brush when you dip it into a paint can. Apply paint from the ends — not the sides of the bristle. Use a smooth back and forth stroke. In starting to paint a wall, it's usually a good idea to begin in the upper left hand corner and work to the right.

Paint Baseboard Last

When painting a room, always do the baseboard last. And to help keep the brush clean and protect the floor from paint, keep a piece of stiff cardboard between the floor and the brush.

Art Stuhler Captures Woodstock Open Crown With 102 Total

Makofski 2nd With 104; Wilson Registers 105 Sum

Winner Cards 31 On Second Round; Waterous Hits 107

Bespectacled, sartorially splendid Art Stuhler, professional from the Country Club of Pittsfield, Mass., reigns as the 1955 Woodstock Open golf champion following a three-under par 102 for the 27-hole route yesterday.

Stuhler's sum was two strokes better than that of the lowest amateur in the field, Sig Makofski of Schenectady. The winning total was three better than Chuck Wilson's second-place pro score.

Wilson, another Pittsfield linksman, gave a fine display of fortitude after being struck over the eye by an errant shot while putting on the fifth green during his first round.

Scores ranged into the higher brackets among the 25 pros, largest field in several years. Stuhler's score was the only one below par and Wilson's was the only one that matched regulation figures.

Another amateur, Leon Cole of the Edison club of Schenectady, matched par.

THE FAVORITE, Armand Farina of Schenectady, finished in a 14th-place tie with Albany's Bob Smith. Each had a 113 total.

Third place among the pros went to Branny Branulis of the Newburgh Country Club. He tallied 107. There was a three-way deadlock for fourth among Alex Sinclair of Mohawk, Fred Lux of Poughkeepsie's Dutchess Golf and Country Club and Frank Stuhler (Art's brother) of the Antlers Club of Amsterdam. This trio had 109.

The victory was worth $865 to Art Stuhler, probably the most nattily-attired golfer in the field.

The first place prize was $100, and Stuhler was fortunate enough to have drawn and bid himself in the Calcutta pool carrying a winning jackpot of $765.

A terrific second round of 31 put Stuhler on top. He carded a 36 in the first time around and ended with a 35.

Makofski also had a 67 for the first 18 holes but shot himself out of contention with a 37 on the final nine. The Mont Pleasant High athletic director holds the tournament record of 99, set several years ago.

STUHLER mastered the course on his second trip. He was never in trouble while posting four birdies. "Very uneventful round," he quipped.

Art ran in a six-footer for a birdie on the 10th. On the 11th, he placed a No. 9 iron shot 18 inches from the pin and that resulted in his second bird.

A 45-foot chip shot from the edge of the 13th green gave Stuhler his third sub-par hole. On the 17th, he drilled a 15-foot putt into the cup.

Playing in the same foursome as his brother during the final nine, Art had a couple of anxious moments. After a birdie three on the 19th, he hooked his 20th tee shot into the rough behind a clump of trees. But he played a great shot over the foliage and got his par.

On the 21st, after two fine shots, Stuhler three-putted. His drive on No. 22 hooked again, and his recovery rolled 20 feet past the pin. When he missed the putt, it looked like a blowup was in the making. He was two under par at the time.

Stuhler had different ideas. He carded an easy birdie on the par 5 23rd, getting on the green in two shots. And Stuhler finished the round with a string of four steady pars. His only trouble came on the last hole, where his tee shot strayed to the left of the green. However, a chip and one putt were all Stuhler needed to close out the round.

Brother Frank finished in fine fashion with a final round of 33. A bogey resulting from a trapped tee shot on the 27th cost him a chance for fourth place.

THE LOCAL professionals found the going rough. Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill finished in a four-way tie for 10th place with a 111 total. The host pro, Jim Hutchins of the Woodstock Country Club, tallied 116. Dave McMeekin of Wiltwyck registered 121.

McMeekin's hooked tee shot off the third tee conked Wilson a glancing blow. Luckily, the injury was not serious and Wilson continued play.

Woodstock's young Bill Waterous turned in his finest competitive round to finish third among the simon-pures. Bill tallied 35-35-37 for a 107 sum. He was one stroke ahead of Poughkeepsie's Ray Billows, seven-time New York State amateur champ and three-time National finalist.

Carlton Traver of the Columbia Country Club of Hudson, the 1954 winner, posted a 112. He topped the field with a 103 last year.

Woodstock amateur ace Bill Van Aken was out of the running with a 112. Other area scores included, from Wiltwyck: Roy Vogt 120, J. Watson Bailey 120, Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr. 118; from Twaalfskill, Maurice Hand 118, George Hughes 116, Louis Bruhn 116, Jim Oulton 124.

Art Stuhler, the younger of the brothers (ages 35 and 40), is quite a character. Anyone who witnessed the draw for the Calcutta will bear out that statement. He even "called the shot" on the draw.

Stuhler's golfing costume would have taken the attention away from Jimmy Demaret, had that worthy been in the same foursome. Art was attired in a light blue baseball-type cap, dark blue shirt, flamingo pink slacks and black-and-pink shoes.

His winning total was the best for a pro in four years. It was shot against the largest field in the same period.

Stuhler is also a television personality in the Pittsfield area. He conducts a TV golfing clinic, "Down the Fairway," on station WMGT.

Crippled Indians Win, Take Second

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

If the Cleveland Indians can win when they're crippled, how's anybody going to beat 'em when they get healthy?

Manager Al Lopez, who's marveled all year at how his Tribe has managed to stay up close in the American League pennant race, was without three of his big guys again last night, yet the Indians smacked the New York Yankees 5-2 and climbed back into second place.

The victory upped the Tribe to within one game of the first place Yanks, carrying them past the Chicago White Sox, who tripped to third with a 10-0 pasting by Washington. The White Sox, only 1½ games back despite three straight defeats were held to two hits by Pedro Ramos, a 20-year-old right-hander.

Cleveland was without Larry Doby (pulled thigh muscle), Gene Woodling (bruised ribs) and Vic Wertz (polio), yet battered Tommy Byrne for 12 hits in seven innings.

FERRIS FAIN, a castoff with a bum knee, subbed for Wertz and had three hits good for two RBIs. Hoot Evers, recently off the hospital list himself, replaced Doby and had two hits, scoring once.

Bob Lemon, another excasualty, scattered nine Yankee hits in the meantime and took his 14th victory, although Ray Narleski had to get the last two outs. Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald homered for the Yank runs.

The White Sox, tired from three doubleheaders in four days, managed only a fourth-inning double by Minnie Minoso, who ran his hitting streak to 19 games, and a two-out single by Jim Rivera in the ninth off Ramos. The 6-foot Cuban, 4-8 for the season, walked only two and struck out three.

Washington got off to a rousing start, scoring six runs in the first inning as Dick Donovan lasted through just six batters.

In the other AL games, Detroit knocked fourth-place Boston farther into the background 5-4 while Kansas City edged Baltimore 3-2 on Enos Slaughter's eighth inning home run.

The National League race aroused itself as Cincinnati smacked Brooklyn 4-2, cutting the Dodgers' lead to 10 games—the shortest spread since their 9½-game edge June 10. Milwaukee's second place Braves whipped New York 7-1.

St. Louis kept Philadelphia from replacing the Giants in third place 4-1 and Chicago snapped a seven-game losing streak 6-3 at Pittsburgh.

Boston, five games behind, swung for 11 hits, including homers by Sammy White and Jim Piersall, but Billy Hoeft hung on for his 13th triumph. Bill Tuttle hit two doubles and a home run to pace Detroit's 10-hit attack on five Boston pitchers.

JOHNNY TEMPLE had three hits as Cincinnati denied Carl Erskine his 100th major league victory, and knocked in the winning run with a double as the Redlegs broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh. Gil Hodges homered and Duke Snider, breaking a slump, had three singles off winner Don Gross, who needed help from Buster Freeman.

Brooklyn now has lost nine of its last 13 games.

Milwaukee wrapped the Giants up early, going five games up on the New Yorkers with Del Crandall's bases-loaded home run off Ruben Gomez in the second inning. Bob Buhl spaced eight hits for a 13-8 record and his fourth straight victory.

Snider-Fan Feeling Improves; Duke Gets 3 Hits

Brooklyn, Aug. 27 (AP)—Duke Snider, the Dodgers centerfielder, felt a little kindlier toward Brooklyn baseball fans today, mainly because of the three hits which lifted his batting average above the .300 mark again.

The Duke, who had connected with only 5 hits in 34 times at bat before last night's splurge, had labeled Brooklyn fans the worst in baseball and said they didn't deserve the pennant. His accusations came Thursday night after he had been booed by the fans.

He back tracked some yesterday when he said "I didn't mean all the fans" but he still was greeted with a mixture of boos and applause as he came to bat the first time last night against Don Gross of Cincinnati. The boos grew louder as he struck out.

But the next time up he connected with the first of the three singles, which raised his average to .303. The cheers increased with each hit and by the end of the game, the National League's No. 1 man at runs batted in apparently was back in the good graces of the fans.

"I'm sorry in a way that I popped off," said the Duke. "I guess I shouldn't have said what I did. There are quite a few good fans in Brooklyn."

Then he added, smiling, "maybe not as many good ones as bad ones, though."

Snider said it wasn't only the boos that got under his skin. He accused the fans of throwing things at him in the field too.

"Just the other day," he said, "I felt something nick my shoulder. I looked down and what do you think it was? A beer-can opener. That's not funny."

No Paralysis After Wertz' Attack of Polio

Cleveland, Aug. 27 (AP)—Polio-stricken Vic Wertz was in "good" condition in an isolation ward today, and the Cleveland Indians' physician reassured the other players about possible contagion.

Dr. Don Kelly told the Tribe in the clubhouse before last night's game with the Yankees that exposure does not necessarily mean other players will get the disease.

"Don't worry about carrying it home to your children," he said. "It is extremely unlikely."

Wertz' illness was diagnosed yesterday, but as yet there has been no sign of paralysis.

"He may be all right as soon as his fever runs its course," said Dr. Kelly. "There may be no paralysis at all. Of course the dangerous period is not over. He will remain in isolation for four or five days."

KINGSTONIANS ON PERSIAN GULF. Kingston Family Becomes Arabian Boat Enthusiasts

A former Kingston resident and his family are among those Americans living in Saudi Arabia who have become devotees of motor boat cruising.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Groat and family, formerly of 1 Park Boulevard, are spending much of their leisure time on the Persian Gulf. Mr. Groat is a tool mechanic with the Arabian-American Oil Co.

The Groats are among approximately 6,000 Americans employed by Aramco living in Saudi Arabia. The family owns a cabin cruiser..

The American oilmen have introduced water skiing in the Persian Gulf. It is one of the numerous aquatic sports enjoyed by them. More than 100 are members of the Ras Tanura Yacht Club or the Half-Moon Bay Yacht Club.

Many families spend weekends and holidays sailing, boating, water skiing, skin diving, fishing and swimming.

A boatyard is being set up in the heart of Aramco's technical shops, where tools are available. Here the oil workers pursue the construction and repair of small craft.

Some boats were purchased in Norway for a fraction of the United States cost for a similar vessel. Others are built entirely by the oilmen.

Races, excursions and fishing trips are a part of every weekend's water activity.

Trolling from a moving craft is popular with fishermen on the Gulf. The principal game fish are the chanaud, hamur or spadie.

U.S. Davis Cup Hopes Lagging As Trabert, Seixas Are Beaten

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—To say that the position of the United States' defending Davis Cup team is difficult would be putting it mildly.

Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas have two strikes on them. One more and they're out and the coveted trophy returns to Australia.

Trabert and Seixas try to keep their faint hopes alive on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club today when they engage Lewis Hoad and Rex Hartwig in the doubles match of the best-of-five event at 2:30 p. m. (EDT).

Even if Trabert and Seixas win the doubles, they'll still have to win the final two singles tomorrow. Tony is paired with Ken Rosewall and Seixas meets Hoad.

FURTHERMORE, the statistics are discouraging for the Yanks. Only once in Davis Cup history has a team gone down to defeat in the opening singles and managed to win the cup. That was in 1939 when Australia's Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich dropped the first two matches to America's Bobby Riggs and Frank Parker, but came back to win the next three.

Both Trabert and Seixas were unimpressive in defeat yesterday. The near-capacity throng of 13,500 half-expected Rosewall to lick Seixas. That he did, 6-3, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2. It was Rosewall's 10th victory in 12 meetings with the 32-year-old Seixas.

But there probably wasn't a soul sitting in the sun-baked stands who thought Hoad, a big, blond youngster who blows hot and cold, could humble Trabert, the king of the world's amateurs. But he gave Tony a good tennis lesson, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6.

Trabert injured his shoulder a couple of weeks ago at Southampton and has been out of action since.

He failed to take advantage of his openings. Hoad, in turn, pushed him to the backcourt when it became apparent that Tony wasn't going to press the issue. At the start Hoad, fearful of Trabert's cannonball delivery, stayed in the backcourt and sent back easy returns.

But from the start of the second set onward, it was a different story. Hoad began taking Tony's service on the rise. No longer timid, he moved a step inside the baseline.

SEIXAS SIMPLY was no match for Rosewall, a wiry little swinger who owns perhaps the finest ground strokes in the game. Ken showed a better service than usual and his forehand scored numerous points for him.

Under U. S. cup captain Bill Talbert's orders, Seixas continually played to Rosewall's forehand and more often than not, had the return pasted past him. Even so, he broke through in the fifth and ninth games of the second set, and it should have been duck soup for an experienced Rosewall to come right back and break through.

Aussie captain Harry Hopman was elated, as would be expected of a fellow who has one of sports' most prized possessions in his grasp.

"I think we'll win it," he said.

Giambra in Line For Title Match After Olson Wins

San Francisco, Aug. 27 (AP)—Joey Giambra was in line today for a shot att he middleweight boxing championship on the strength of last night's masterful performance against titlist Carl (Bobo) Olson.

The young army private, who dropped a decision to Olson in the champion's "home" Cow Palace ring, was given assurance he'd get a title date by Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, who watched the nationally televised bout from ringside.

He can have a title fight in February," said Gibson.

Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, agreed that the 24-year-old crew-cut kid had earned the date.

"We'll box him for the title right here after Bobo gets through with (Sugar Ray) Robinson in November," Flaherty said. "Maybe we can set it up for February. We'll take on Bobby Dykes at Miami on Sept. 21 before the Robinson fight.

Olson was apparently as surprised as the 5,102 fans, who booed lustily when the unanimous decision was announced. He acknowledged that Giambra "gave me a hard fight."

"He's fast and he's smart and he's young," said the balding champion. I'm getting to be an old man."

At times last night Olson looked just that. Giambra was sharp, especially with his left hand in the early going, but the champion's experience gained him the nod. Time and again he tied up the boy from Buffalo, N. Y., on the ropes, scoring with his body punching and nullifying Giambra's hook.

Referee Jack Downey had it 58-52 for Olson and Judges Ray Flores and Vern Bybee scored it 57½-52½. The Associated Press card showed Olson winning by 55½-54½.

Olson, who came in at 165 pounds, a bit over his best fighting weight, said he was "a little sluggish."

Snead Leads Montreal Open

Montreal, Aug. 27 (AP)—Sam Snead, the slammin' man from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., went into the third round of $26,800 Montreal Open golf tournament today with a one-stroke lead over Doug Ford and Canada's Stan Leonard, who only recently took off on the game's money trail.

Snead carded a 69 yesterday, which with his five-under-par 65 first round gave him a 134 total at the halfway mark on the 72-hole competition over the Summerlea Club Course.

The 39-year-old Leonard, however, put together a 66 and Ford from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., added a 69 to stay right at Slammin' Sam's heels with 135s.

Art Stuhler Captures Woodstock Open Crown With 102 Total

Makofski 2nd With 104; Wilson Registers 105 Sum

Winner Cards 31 On Second Round; Waterous Hits 107

Bespectacled, sartorially splendid Art Stuhler, professional from the Country Club of Pittsfield, Mass., reigns as the 1955 Woodstock Open golf champion following a three-under par 102 for the 27-hole route yesterday.

Stuhler's sum was two strokes better than that of the lowest amateur in the field, Sig Makofski of Schenectady. The winning total was three better than Chuck Wilson's second-place pro score.

Wilson, another Pittsfield linksman, gave a fine display of fortitude after being struck over the eye by an errant shot while putting on the fifth green during his first round.

Scores ranged into the higher brackets among the 25 pros, largest field in several years. Stuhler's score was the only one below par and Wilson's was the only one that matched regulation figures.

Another amateur, Leon Cole of the Edison club of Schenectady, matched par.

THE FAVORITE, Armand Farina of Schenectady, finished in a 14th-place tie with Albany's Bob Smith. Each had a 113 total.

Third place among the pros went to Branny Branulis of the Newburgh Country Club. He tallied 107. There was a three-way deadlock for fourth among Alex Sinclair of Mohawk, Fred Lux of Poughkeepsie's Dutchess Golf and Country Club and Frank Stuhler (Art's brother) of the Antlers Club of Amsterdam. This trio had 109.

The victory was worth $865 to Art Stuhler, probably the most nattily-attired golfer in the field.

The first place prize was $100, and Stuhler was fortunate enough to have drawn and bid himself in the Calcutta pool carrying a winning jackpot of $765.

A terrific second round of 31 put Stuhler on top. He carded a 36 in the first time around and ended with a 35.

Makofski also had a 67 for the first 18 holes but shot himself out of contention with a 37 on the final nine. The Mont Pleasant High athletic director holds the tournament record of 99, set several years ago.

STUHLER mastered the course on his second trip. He was never in trouble while posting four birdies. "Very uneventful round," he quipped.

Art ran in a six-footer for a birdie on the 10th. On the 11th, he placed a No. 9 iron shot 18 inches from the pin and that resulted in his second bird.

A 45-foot chip shot from the edge of the 13th green gave Stuhler his third sub-par hole. On the 17th, he drilled a 15-foot putt into the cup.

Playing in the same foursome as his brother during the final nine, Art had a couple of anxious moments. After a birdie three on the 19th, he hooked his 20th tee shot into the rough behind a clump of trees. But he played a great shot over the foliage and got his par.

On the 21st, after two fine shots, Stuhler three-putted. His drive on No. 22 hooked again, and his recovery rolled 20 feet past the pin. When he missed the putt, it looked like a blowup was in the making. He was two under par at the time.

Stuhler had different ideas. He carded an easy birdie on the par 5 23rd, getting on the green in two shots. And Stuhler finished the round with a string of four steady pars. His only trouble came on the last hole, where his tee shot strayed to the left of the green. However, a chip and one putt were all Stuhler needed to close out the round.

Brother Frank finished in fine fashion with a final round of 33. A bogey resulting from a trapped tee shot on the 27th cost him a chance for fourth place.

THE LOCAL professionals found the going rough. Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill finished in a four-way tie for 10th place with a 111 total. The host pro, Jim Hutchins of the Woodstock Country Club, tallied 116. Dave McMeekin of Wiltwyck registered 121.

McMeekin's hooked tee shot off the third tee conked Wilson a glancing blow. Luckily, the injury was not serious and Wilson continued play.

Woodstock's young Bill Waterous turned in his finest competitive round to finish third among the simon-pures. Bill tallied 35-35-37 for a 107 sum. He was one stroke ahead of Poughkeepsie's Ray Billows, seven-time New York State amateur champ and three-time National finalist.

Carlton Traver of the Columbia Country Club of Hudson, the 1954 winner, posted a 112. He topped the field with a 103 last year.

Woodstock amateur ace Bill Van Aken was out of the running with a 112. Other area scores included, from Wiltwyck: Roy Vogt 120, J. Watson Bailey 120, Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr. 118; from Twaalfskill, Maurice Hand 118, George Hughes 116, Louis Bruhn 116, Jim Oulton 124.

Art Stuhler, the younger of the brothers (ages 35 and 40), is quite a character. Anyone who witnessed the draw for the Calcutta will bear out that statement. He even "called the shot" on the draw.

Stuhler's golfing costume would have taken the attention away from Jimmy Demaret, had that worthy been in the same foursome. Art was attired in a light blue baseball-type cap, dark blue shirt, flamingo pink slacks and black-and-pink shoes.

His winning total was the best for a pro in four years. It was shot against the largest field in the same period.

Stuhler is also a television personality in the Pittsfield area. He conducts a TV golfing clinic, "Down the Fairway," on station WMGT.

Crippled Indians Win, Take Second

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

If the Cleveland Indians can win when they're crippled, how's anybody going to beat 'em when they get healthy?

Manager Al Lopez, who's marveled all year at how his Tribe has managed to stay up close in the American League pennant race, was without three of his big guys again last night, yet the Indians smacked the New York Yankees 5-2 and climbed back into second place.

The victory upped the Tribe to within one game of the first place Yanks, carrying them past the Chicago White Sox, who tripped to third with a 10-0 pasting by Washington. The White Sox, only 1½ games back despite three straight defeats were held to two hits by Pedro Ramos, a 20-year-old right-hander.

Cleveland was without Larry Doby (pulled thigh muscle), Gene Woodling (bruised ribs) and Vic Wertz (polio), yet battered Tommy Byrne for 12 hits in seven innings.

FERRIS FAIN, a castoff with a bum knee, subbed for Wertz and had three hits good for two RBIs. Hoot Evers, recently off the hospital list himself, replaced Doby and had two hits, scoring once.

Bob Lemon, another excasualty, scattered nine Yankee hits in the meantime and took his 14th victory, although Ray Narleski had to get the last two outs. Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald homered for the Yank runs.

The White Sox, tired from three doubleheaders in four days, managed only a fourth-inning double by Minnie Minoso, who ran his hitting streak to 19 games, and a two-out single by Jim Rivera in the ninth off Ramos. The 6-foot Cuban, 4-8 for the season, walked only two and struck out three.

Washington got off to a rousing start, scoring six runs in the first inning as Dick Donovan lasted through just six batters.

In the other AL games, Detroit knocked fourth-place Boston farther into the background 5-4 while Kansas City edged Baltimore 3-2 on Enos Slaughter's eighth inning home run.

The National League race aroused itself as Cincinnati smacked Brooklyn 4-2, cutting the Dodgers' lead to 10 games—the shortest spread since their 9½-game edge June 10. Milwaukee's second place Braves whipped New York 7-1.

St. Louis kept Philadelphia from replacing the Giants in third place 4-1 and Chicago snapped a seven-game losing streak 6-3 at Pittsburgh.

Boston, five games behind, swung for 11 hits, including homers by Sammy White and Jim Piersall, but Billy Hoeft hung on for his 13th triumph. Bill Tuttle hit two doubles and a home run to pace Detroit's 10-hit attack on five Boston pitchers.

JOHNNY TEMPLE had three hits as Cincinnati denied Carl Erskine his 100th major league victory, and knocked in the winning run with a double as the Redlegs broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh. Gil Hodges homered and Duke Snider, breaking a slump, had three singles off winner Don Gross, who needed help from Buster Freeman.

Brooklyn now has lost nine of its last 13 games.

Milwaukee wrapped the Giants up early, going five games up on the New Yorkers with Del Crandall's bases-loaded home run off Ruben Gomez in the second inning. Bob Buhl spaced eight hits for a 13-8 record and his fourth straight victory.

Snider-Fan Feeling Improves; Duke Gets 3 Hits

Brooklyn, Aug. 27 (AP)—Duke Snider, the Dodgers centerfielder, felt a little kindlier toward Brooklyn baseball fans today, mainly because of the three hits which lifted his batting average above the .300 mark again.

The Duke, who had connected with only 5 hits in 34 times at bat before last night's splurge, had labeled Brooklyn fans the worst in baseball and said they didn't deserve the pennant. His accusations came Thursday night after he had been booed by the fans.

He back tracked some yesterday when he said "I didn't mean all the fans" but he still was greeted with a mixture of boos and applause as he came to bat the first time last night against Don Gross of Cincinnati. The boos grew louder as he struck out.

But the next time up he connected with the first of the three singles, which raised his average to .303. The cheers increased with each hit and by the end of the game, the National League's No. 1 man at runs batted in apparently was back in the good graces of the fans.

"I'm sorry in a way that I popped off," said the Duke. "I guess I shouldn't have said what I did. There are quite a few good fans in Brooklyn."

Then he added, smiling, "maybe not as many good ones as bad ones, though."

Snider said it wasn't only the boos that got under his skin. He accused the fans of throwing things at him in the field too.

"Just the other day," he said, "I felt something nick my shoulder. I looked down and what do you think it was? A beer-can opener. That's not funny."

No Paralysis After Wertz' Attack of Polio

Cleveland, Aug. 27 (AP)—Polio-stricken Vic Wertz was in "good" condition in an isolation ward today, and the Cleveland Indians' physician reassured the other players about possible contagion.

Dr. Don Kelly told the Tribe in the clubhouse before last night's game with the Yankees that exposure does not necessarily mean other players will get the disease.

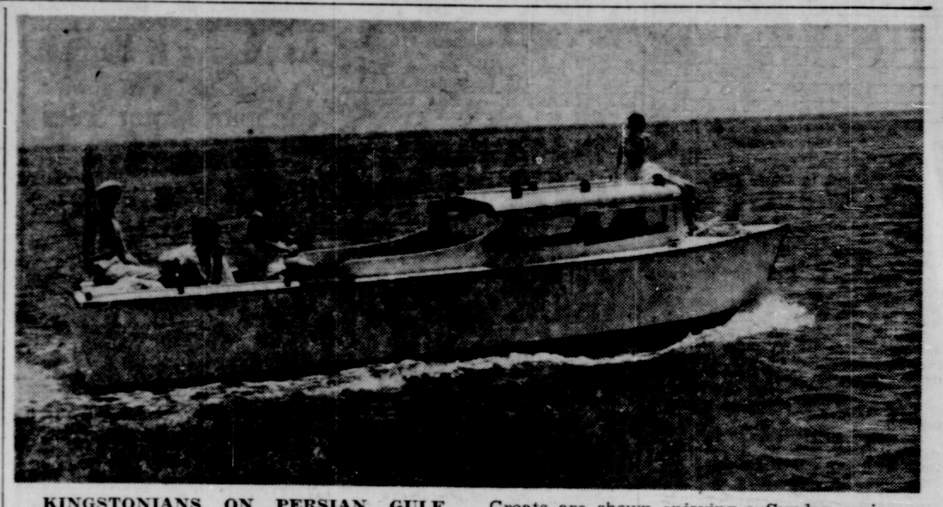

"Don't worry about carrying it home to your children," he said. "It is extremely unlikely."

Wertz' illness was diagnosed yesterday, but as yet there has been no sign of paralysis.

"He may be all right as soon as his fever runs its course," said Dr. Kelly. "There may be no paralysis at all. Of course the dangerous period is not over. He will remain in isolation for four or five days."

JUST IN CASE—Shapely Carolyn Jones tries her new underwater camera case, which permits picture-taking 100 feet below, just in case you happen to be going down that far. The case is of soft, flexible and transparent plastic. Pictures are shot through a double-strength opti-glass cover.

KINGSTONIANS ON PERSIAN GULF. Shown in their cabin cruiser on the Persian Gulf off the eastern shores of Saudi Arabia are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Groat and their family, formerly of 1 Park Boulevard, Kingston. The Groats are shown enjoying a Sunday cruise on Half Moon Bay. Mr. Groat, a tool mechanic for the Arabian-American Oil Co., was active in forming the Half Moon Bay Yachting Club. (Aramco photo)

Kingston Family Becomes Arabian Boat Enthusiasts

A former Kingston resident and his family are among those Americans living in Saudi Arabia who have become devotees of motor boat cruising.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Groat and family, formerly of 1 Park Boulevard, are spending much of their leisure time on the Persian Gulf. Mr. Groat is a tool mechanic with the Arabian-American Oil Co.

The Groats are among approximately 6,000 Americans employed by Aramco living in Saudi Arabia. The family owns a cabin cruiser..

The American oilmen have introduced water skiing in the Persian Gulf. It is one of the numerous aquatic sports enjoyed by them. More than 100 are members of the Ras Tanura Yacht Club or the Half-Moon Bay Yacht Club.

Many families spend weekends and holidays sailing, boating, water skiing, skin diving, fishing and swimming.

A boatyard is being set up in the heart of Aramco's technical shops, where tools are available. Here the oil workers pursue the construction and repair of small craft.

Some boats were purchased in Norway for a fraction of the United States cost for a similar vessel. Others are built entirely by the oilmen.

Races, excursions and fishing trips are a part of every weekend's water activity.

Trolling from a moving craft is popular with fishermen on the Gulf. The principal game fish are the chanaud, hamur or spadie.

U.S. Davis Cup Hopes Lagging As Trabert, Seixas Are Beaten

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—To say that the position of the United States' defending Davis Cup team is difficult would be putting it mildly.

Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas have two strikes on them. One more and they're out and the coveted trophy returns to Australia.

Trabert and Seixas try to keep their faint hopes alive on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club today when they engage Lewis Hoad and Rex Hartwig in the doubles match of the best-of-five event at 2:30 p. m. (EDT).

Even if Trabert and Seixas win the doubles, they'll still have to win the final two singles tomorrow. Tony is paired with Ken Rosewall and Seixas meets Hoad.

FURTHERMORE, the statistics are discouraging for the Yanks. Only once in Davis Cup history has a team gone down to defeat in the opening singles and managed to win the cup. That was in 1939 when Australia's Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich dropped the first two matches to America's Bobby Riggs and Frank Parker, but came back to win the next three.

Both Trabert and Seixas were unimpressive in defeat yesterday. The near-capacity throng of 13,500 half-expected Rosewall to lick Seixas. That he did, 6-3, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2. It was Rosewall's 10th victory in 12 meetings with the 32-year-old Seixas.

But there probably wasn't a soul sitting in the sun-baked stands who thought Hoad, a big, blond youngster who blows hot and cold, could humble Trabert, the king of the world's amateurs. But he gave Tony a good tennis lesson, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6.

Trabert injured his shoulder a couple of weeks ago at Southampton and has been out of action since.

He failed to take advantage of his openings. Hoad, in turn, pushed him to the backcourt when it became apparent that Tony wasn't going to press the issue. At the start Hoad, fearful of Trabert's cannonball delivery, stayed in the backcourt and sent back easy returns.

But from the start of the second set onward, it was a different story. Hoad began taking Tony's service on the rise. No longer timid, he moved a step inside the baseline.

SEIXAS SIMPLY was no match for Rosewall, a wiry little swinger who owns perhaps the finest ground strokes in the game. Ken showed a better service than usual and his forehand scored numerous points for him.

Under U. S. cup captain Bill Talbert's orders, Seixas continually played to Rosewall's forehand and more often than not, had the return pasted past him. Even so, he broke through in the fifth and ninth games of the second set, and it should have been duck soup for an experienced Rosewall to come right back and break through.

Aussie captain Harry Hopman was elated, as would be expected of a fellow who has one of sports' most prized possessions in his grasp.

"I think we'll win it," he said.

Giambra in Line For Title Match After Olson Wins

San Francisco, Aug. 27 (AP)—Joey Giambra was in line today for a shot att he middleweight boxing championship on the strength of last night's masterful performance against titlist Carl (Bobo) Olson.

The young army private, who dropped a decision to Olson in the champion's "home" Cow Palace ring, was given assurance he'd get a title date by Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, who watched the nationally televised bout from ringside.

He can have a title fight in February," said Gibson.

Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, agreed that the 24-year-old crew-cut kid had earned the date.

"We'll box him for the title right here after Bobo gets through with (Sugar Ray) Robinson in November," Flaherty said. "Maybe we can set it up for February. We'll take on Bobby Dykes at Miami on Sept. 21 before the Robinson fight.

Olson was apparently as surprised as the 5,102 fans, who booed lustily when the unanimous decision was announced. He acknowledged that Giambra "gave me a hard fight."

"He's fast and he's smart and he's young," said the balding champion. I'm getting to be an old man."

At times last night Olson looked just that. Giambra was sharp, especially with his left hand in the early going, but the champion's experience gained him the nod. Time and again he tied up the boy from Buffalo, N. Y., on the ropes, scoring with his body punching and nullifying Giambra's hook.

Referee Jack Downey had it 58-52 for Olson and Judges Ray Flores and Vern Bybee scored it 57½-52½. The Associated Press card showed Olson winning by 55½-54½.

Olson, who came in at 165 pounds, a bit over his best fighting weight, said he was "a little sluggish."

Snead Leads Montreal Open

Montreal, Aug. 27 (AP)—Sam Snead, the slammin' man from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., went into the third round of $26,800 Montreal Open golf tournament today with a one-stroke lead over Doug Ford and Canada's Stan Leonard, who only recently took off on the game's money trail.

Snead carded a 69 yesterday, which with his five-under-par 65 first round gave him a 134 total at the halfway mark on the 72-hole competition over the Summerlea Club Course.

The 39-year-old Leonard, however, put together a 66 and Ford from Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., added a 69 to stay right at Slammin' Sam's heels with 135s.

Pennsylvania Team Wins LL Championship

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Rich Cominski's seventh-inning home run into the left field seats gave Morrisville, Pa., a 4-3 extra-inning victory over Delaware Township, N. J., and the championship of the Little League world series today.

A seventh-inning single with a man on base [illegible], Ala., third place in the series, 1 to 0 over Winchester, Mass., in the consolation game.

Nixon Outlines 6 Ways Russia Can Reduce Tensions

Philadelphia, Aug. 27 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has outlined six ways he says Russia can show the world it wants to reduce East-West tensions and "live in peace."

If the Soviet Union "honestly" seeks peace, Nixon told 1,200 guests Thursday night at the annual banquet of the American Bar Assn., "it must act now, by positive steps," adding:

"What Russia does will determine whether there is a real thaw in the cold war, or just a brief warm spell before an even bigger freeze."

THE SOVIET "actions" Nixon demanded were free elections and unification of Germany, withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops in Korea and unification of Korea, implementation of President Eisenhower's aerial inspection plan and eventual disarmament, rip down the iron curtain in Europe, freedom to the satellite countries, and suspending Moscow-control over organizations in free nations.

What Nixon told the lawyers, who end their 78th annual convention here today after a week of legal discussions, paralleled the position enunciated here two days ago by President Eisenhower, in a speech also made before the ABA.

NIXON HAILED the success of the recent Geneva Big-Four Conference and said that as a result of it the U. S. "is off the defensive and on the offensive on the great issue of peace."

Nixon said he hoped that Russia's recent cordiality wasn't "calculated to get us to drop our guard" for "if we weaken our defenses, Geneva will have been a disaster for the cause of freedom."

The vice president's address, interrupted by applause a half dozen times, was in two-part. The first dealt with the world situation and the second discussed communism in the United States and how the federal government should deal with it.

ON THE COMMUNIST issue Nixon had high praise for congressional investigating committees which, he said, "expose the Reds."

"It is apparent that the basic objection of most of the critics is not how congressional committees investigate—but what they investigate," he said.

Nixon said he believed that the subject of communism — "its theories and practices"—should be taught in the nation's public schools. This statement was loudly applauded.

Only last Monday the Bar Association adopted a similar stand, asking Congress to pass a bill that would permit the subject of communism to be taught alongside that of the American way of life, so the two systems might be compared.

Nixon Outlines 6 Ways Russia Can Reduce Tensions

Philadelphia, Aug. 27 (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon has outlined six ways he says Russia can show the world it wants to reduce East-West tensions and "live in peace."

If the Soviet Union "honestly" seeks peace, Nixon told 1,200 guests Thursday night at the annual banquet of the American Bar Assn., "it must act now, by positive steps," adding:

"What Russia does will determine whether there is a real thaw in the cold war, or just a brief warm spell before an even bigger freeze."

THE SOVIET "actions" Nixon demanded were free elections and unification of Germany, withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops in Korea and unification of Korea, implementation of President Eisenhower's aerial inspection plan and eventual disarmament, rip down the iron curtain in Europe, freedom to the satellite countries, and suspending Moscow-control over organizations in free nations.

What Nixon told the lawyers, who end their 78th annual convention here today after a week of legal discussions, paralleled the position enunciated here two days ago by President Eisenhower, in a speech also made before the ABA.

NIXON HAILED the success of the recent Geneva Big-Four Conference and said that as a result of it the U. S. "is off the defensive and on the offensive on the great issue of peace."

Nixon said he hoped that Russia's recent cordiality wasn't "calculated to get us to drop our guard" for "if we weaken our defenses, Geneva will have been a disaster for the cause of freedom."

The vice president's address, interrupted by applause a half dozen times, was in two-part. The first dealt with the world situation and the second discussed communism in the United States and how the federal government should deal with it.

ON THE COMMUNIST issue Nixon had high praise for congressional investigating committees which, he said, "expose the Reds."

"It is apparent that the basic objection of most of the critics is not how congressional committees investigate—but what they investigate," he said.

Nixon said he believed that the subject of communism — "its theories and practices"—should be taught in the nation's public schools. This statement was loudly applauded.

Only last Monday the Bar Association adopted a similar stand, asking Congress to pass a bill that would permit the subject of communism to be taught alongside that of the American way of life, so the two systems might be compared.

Monarchists-Fascists To Form Italian Bloc

Rome, Aug. 27 (AP)—Italy's Monarchist and Fascist parties announced an accord today which would create a virtual right-wing bloc in Parliament.

The agreement was made public in a joint communique signed by Arturo Michelini, national secretary of the Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI) and Alfredo Cvelli, secretary of the National Monarchist Party (PNM).

The two parties polled 12 to 13 per cent of the popular vote in the 1953 national elections. They had 69 seats in the 590-seat Chamber of Deputies and 25 seats in the 237-seat Senate.

Since then, however, the Monarchist Party has split. Naples' millionaire shipowner-mayor, Achille Lauro, formed a separate Popular Monarchist Party which claimed 12 of the Monarchist legislators. This number has varied in parliamentary votes since. The Lauro party did not go along with today's accord.

mental—but believe me it is effective. I guess things were a bit tougher on me than they needed to be because I did a lot of things in prison I wasn't supposed to do. I spent three real long stretches in solitary confinement—but that wasn't much worse than my usual cell.

"I also did some time in another type of cell—one with very uncomfortable walls — but I don't think I can tell you about that," he said seriously. "The air force hasn't released that stuff yet and there are still a lot of Americans in those places.* * *

"In December '54 we got a few rumors that things were looking up for us. That's when we were let out for those volleyball pictures the Reds sent over. My hopes went up then—I had never quit hoping. In a place like that where you can't read or talk, all you can do is think. All I thought of was getting out. * * *

"We walked out of the prison together. It was 11 in the morning and they had given us most of our things back. * * * They (the guards) had been acting like it was a big joke the last couple of months. I guess they had to be friendly then.

"You know the rest," said Danny.

"I would like to get an education now. I had planned on going to University of Missoula, Montana and studying wildlife. Tippy (Una) and I like the idea of going to live in the woods. I like to hunt and be outdoors.

"After I report to Washington next month I will know for sure just what our plans will be. Til then, who knows? * * *."

Comstock Prison

institution and the remainder were from the new, younger group, aged 19 to 22.

The commissioner said several of the older convicts complained about actions of the younger group and said they "made them nervous" with talk of their past life, past criminal career, future criminal plans and quarreling.

The commissioner declared a major problem had resulted "from the concentration of the more reckless, irresponsible young offenders in one institution."

McHugh said recreation was not a problem now but might be during the winter because of the lack of a gymnasium hall. Funds are available for construction, he said, but the building will not be available for a year or more. He said bids would be asked soon.

THE 1,152 INMATES were restricted on the days following the disturbance. The rebels were fed in their cells and the others in small groups in the mess hall, McHugh reported.

On each day since then larger groups were fed until now all those not in the uprising are eating in the single mess hall, he said.

The commissioner praised the loyalty and valor of the guards, the state police and Deputy Commissionner Paul D. McGinnis. McHugh said McGinnis "actively participated in the attack which brought about the surrender of the inmates."

McHUGH RACED 100 miles by automobile to the institution the night of the revolt from Canton, where he was attending a conference on juvenile delinquency. Shortly after arrival, he delivered an ultimatum to the rebels to return to their cells within five minutes. They did not comply and the battle followed.

The commissioner said he felt there was some deficiency in equipment available to handle disturbances. He said additional weapons and portable lighting equipment were needed. He said a survey would be made to determine other equipment necessary.

10 Spans Out

Sullivan county was completely washed away for a distance of 600 feet to a depth of 10 feet. This washout extended deep into a field alongside the road. Much of the fill has been completed by the county employees with the assistance of Army Engineers. Green pointed out that his county equipment had been augmented by great numbers of "dozers" sent in by the Engineers. He had one "dozer" on the job and the Corps of Army Engineers sent in eight more.

In Shawangunk he reported one bridge destroyed with the abutments but he recommended construction of about a quarter mile of new road across a field to connect with an existing town road and the elimination of the old route and the destroyed bridge. He said this new alignment would serve the residents. On the Peterskill near Crawford $10,000 damage had been done to a county road built this year and in addition the water had done great damage to private property in the area.

Rosendale also suffered too. The Coxing Creek bridge adjacent to Route 213 has tipped over but can be salvaged and repaired.

IN HURLEY he reported several culverts damaged and one which will have to be replaced by a short concrete bridge.

In numerous places portions of pavement have been washed away, ditches clogged and roads damaged. Many culverts on county roads have been lost and will have to be replaced.

Green said the Corps of Engineers was prepared to construct bridges in the form of temporary structures and Bailey bridges can be thrown up quickly and will be usable for a period of time. He praised the work of the Corps of Engineers and said they were doing an excellent job of temporary repairs. How much of the work could be accomplished by the engineers, he said it was too early to say.

MANY CREEKS will have to be cleared of snags and debris and this work the engineers are prepared to do. Rip-rap is being installed in places to resist further washouts.

Green said he could give no accurate estimate of the damage done or the need for emergency appropriations until it was ascertained how much of the work would be done by the Corps of Engineers, meanwhile he said he held to the estimate of $600,000 to $700,000 damage cost.

Supervisor Eckert of Esopus, after receipt of the report, offered a resolution commending Green and his staff for its diligent work and also commending the fire departments of Ellenville, Wawarsing, Rosendale, Accord and others for their work in rescue and also the follow-up period in which they worked around the clock pumping out flooded homes. Civil defense workers, civilian population, Sheriff Cluett Schantz and his men and Harry L. Edinger of the County Health Department and his men who worked on sanitary precautions also came in for commendation in the resolution. Supervisor Turck of the Fourth Ward and others seconded the resolution which was unanimously approved.

SUPERVISOR Sprague of Wawarsing offered a resolution asking for a special appropriation of $4,000 to eliminate a pond in Napanoch which threatens residents in the village with flooded cellars. Sprague explained that there had collected a large quantity of water off old Route 209 in the village, cellars were flooded and water had no way to run off. He asked a special appropriation for the work, to be used if the Corps of Engineers do not eliminate the situation. He said he expected they would but it was a matter of emergency, health and immediate action. His town hard hit by flood damage was unable to find money for the job and he said it was imperative the situation be eliminated within the next few days for health reasons. The appropriation was authorized after the Democratic members had asked for a recess in which to confer. The vote was unanimous.

A communication was received from the Motorola Company asking that they be permitted to bid on installation of equipment in the event the county decided to put in a two way radio system for volunteer fire company use. Referred to the committee on two-way radio.

A COMMUNICATION also was received from the New York State Division of Safety asking that the board give consideration to appointment of a County Fire Co-ordinator. Arthur C. Chipp, Kerhonkson, county coordinator resigned some time ago and a successor had not been appointed. Referred to Fire Advisory Board committee for recommendation.

A petition signed by 16 residents of the Mountain Rest road was received asking that the road be repaired. Referred to the acting county superintendent.

A communication was received from the Civil Service Association saying the association advocated a 40-hour week for nurses at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. Referred to Salary Study committee.

Supervisor Sprague of Wawarsing after the meeting informed a Freeman reporter that the pond he had referred to and which was a real health menace to the residents of Napanoch and to the water supplies in the village, extended for some 100 yards to the west of the old alignment of Route 209 in the village and was at least 150 feet wide. He said sewage drained into the pond and there was a distinct odor. He feared the water would contaminate wells in the area. Napanoch firemen had attempted to pump the water out but had made no headway, the water coming in faster than it could be removed.

PRIOR TO adjournment Supervisor Eckert reported that Majority Leader Jesse McHugh of Wallkill, who has been ill, was recovering nicely and the board expressed its hope for a "speedy recovery."

Present at the meeting was Supervisor Fred DuBois of New Paltz who was appointed to fill out the vacancy created by the death of Supervisor Frank G. Elliott.

At the prior meeting Supervisor Fitzsimmons was named to the Farm and Home Bureau Association committee to succeed Mr. Elliott, New Paltz, and Supervisor Stauble was named to succeed Supervisor Eber H. Coy, Plattekill, resigned. Both were removed from the committee by Chairman Relyea and in their places Fred DuBois of New Paltz and Supervisor Gerow Wilkin of Plattekill were named.

Labor Party Showdown For Leadership Seen

London, Aug. 27 (AP)—A showdown fight that could determine who will lead Britain's ailing Labor Party, shaped up today as Leftwing Aneurin Bevan sought to unseat Moderate Hugh Taitskell for the post of party treasurer.

The two political rivals were both nominated for the post now held by Gaitskell—leaving the final choice up to the party's annual conference at Margate Oct. 10-14.

Gaitskell who trounced Bevan for the post last year, was a heavy favorite again this time. Delegates of the larger trade unions control the party conference and most of these unions are believed behind Gaitskell.

The treasurership carries with it a seat on the party's national executive committee. Through it both men hope to win the big plum—leadership of the Socialist Party now held by aged, ailing Clement Attlee.

The 72-year-old Attlee who recently suffered a cerebral thrombosis (blood clot on the brain) may retire soon.

CAP Training Slated Sunday

One of a series of Civil Air Patrol training missions will be Sunday at the New York State Armory, Manor avenue, starting at 2 p. m.

All cadets and senior members are due to report for the exercise which will include a simulated search and rescue with CAP pilots reporting a crash area.

It will be presumed that the pilot has bailed out and is to be rescued. The exercise will be postponed until later in the event of rain.

THE SECOND is an eight-year-old boy residing in the southwest portion of the county. The third is a 15-year-old girl, also a resident of the southwest portion of the county.

One of the two non-paralytic cases received a shot of Salk vaccine in May, Dr. Hargrave said. He explained that the fact this child received one shot of the vaccine might account for the lack of paralysis.

All intimate contacts of the three children have been given gamma globulin, he said.

Adenauer Strategy

Bonn, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano today reported to Socialist opposition leader Erich Ollenhauer on the strategy for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Moscow. Ollenhauer cut short his Bavarian vacation for the pre-Moscow talks that will be held by West German political and government leaders before Adenauer leaves on Sept. 8 for the Soviet Union. Aside from the preparations for Adenauer's trip, they discussed whether the Socialists would accept a possible invitation to take part in the Moscow discussions.

Troops Dispatched

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 27 (AP)—Troops were dispatched to key points in Chile today as the government clamped a state of emergency on two provinces to avert trouble in the crippling strike of 50,000 government workers. Gen. Horacio Gamboa, chief of the capital's garrison, posted 15,000 soldiers in Santiago and sent armed units into the interior as the provinces of Santiago and Concepcion were placed on an emergency alert.

Koreans Continue Actions Against Red Truce Teams

Seoul, Aug. 27 (AP) — Some 3,000 Korean housewives and schoolgirls today marched past the American Embassy as part of continuing demonstrations against communist truce inspectors.

They shouted "Communist spies get out of Korea" and carried banners bearing the same slogan.

Groups of 100 to 200 demonstrators continued their three-week old Korean campaigns against the inspection teams in Kangnung and Pusan. There were no demonstrations in Inchon and Taegu.

An 8th Army spokesman said the demonstrators were "very quiet and there was no violence."

Police Alerted Prior To Three-Power Talks

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 27 (AP) — Police kept watchful guard today for signs of trouble as the time neared for three-power talks on the future of disputed Cyprus.

Turkey has warned Britain that disturbances might break out on the jittery isle Sunday —eve of the London talks between the foreign ministers of Britain, Turkey and Greece.

Authorities here believed violence is unlikely, but they have set up precautionary road blocks and reinforced the troops.

Some 400,000 islanders of Greek origin have been agitating for union with Greece, while the 100,000 Cypriots of Turkish descent want Cyprus to stay a British crown colony.

Recruiting Tripled

Heidelberg, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—The U. S. Army in Europe reported today that recruiting in the first seven months of this year nearly tripled that of the same period last year. The army attributed the increase to a recent pay raise, re-enlistment benefits of its new rotation system, Operation Gyroscope. Army headquarters here said 9,120 service men enlisted, re-enlisted or extended their service terms through July, compared with 3,153 in the first seven months of 1954.

'Blackboard Jungle' Out of Film Festival

Venice, Italy, Aug. 27 (AP)—"The Blackboard Jungle," a realistic American movie portraying young hoodlums in revolt against high school authority, has been withdrawn from the Venice International Film Festival.

The action was taken last night by the American festival delegation and immediately kicked up a protest in Hollywood.

The U. S. delegation said it would substitute "Interrupted Melody" for "Blackboard Jungle" in the film competition. No official reason was given, but one member of the delegation said the action was taken because the movie gave an "unflattering and unrealisic view of American school life."

Monarchists-Fascists To Form Italian Bloc

Rome, Aug. 27 (AP)—Italy's Monarchist and Fascist parties announced an accord today which would create a virtual right-wing bloc in Parliament.

The agreement was made public in a joint communique signed by Arturo Michelini, national secretary of the Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI) and Alfredo Cvelli, secretary of the National Monarchist Party (PNM).

The two parties polled 12 to 13 per cent of the popular vote in the 1953 national elections. They had 69 seats in the 590-seat Chamber of Deputies and 25 seats in the 237-seat Senate.

Since then, however, the Monarchist Party has split. Naples' millionaire shipowner-mayor, Achille Lauro, formed a separate Popular Monarchist Party which claimed 12 of the Monarchist legislators. This number has varied in parliamentary votes since. The Lauro party did not go along with today's accord.

mental—but believe me it is effective. I guess things were a bit tougher on me than they needed to be because I did a lot of things in prison I wasn't supposed to do. I spent three real long stretches in solitary confinement—but that wasn't much worse than my usual cell.

"I also did some time in another type of cell—one with very uncomfortable walls — but I don't think I can tell you about that," he said seriously. "The air force hasn't released that stuff yet and there are still a lot of Americans in those places." * * *

"In December '54 we got a few rumors that things were looking up for us. That's when we were let out for those volleyball pictures the Reds sent over. My hopes went up then—I had never quit hoping. In a place like that where you can't read or talk, all you can do is think. All I thought of was getting out. * * *

"We walked out of the prison together. It was 11 in the morning and they had given us most of our things back. * * * They (the guards) had been acting like it was a big joke the last couple of months. I guess they had to be friendly then.

"You know the rest," said Danny.

"I would like to get an education now. I had planned on going to University of Missoula, Montana and studying wildlife. Tippy (Una) and I like the idea of going to live in the woods. I like to hunt and be outdoors.

"After I report to Washington next month I will know for sure just what our plans will be. Til then, who knows? * * *."

institution and the remainder were from the new, younger group, aged 19 to 22.

The commissioner said several of the older convicts complained about actions of the younger group and said they "made them nervous" with talk of their past life, past criminal career, future criminal plans and quarreling.

The commissioner declared a major problem had resulted "from the concentration of the more reckless, irresponsible young offenders in one institution."

McHugh said recreation was not a problem now but might be during the winter because of the lack of a gymnasium hall. Funds are available for construction, he said, but the building will not be available for a year or more. He said bids would be asked soon.

THE 1,152 INMATES were restricted on the days following the disturbance. The rebels were fed in their cells and the others in small groups in the mess hall, McHugh reported.

On each day since then larger groups were fed until now all those not in the uprising are eating in the single mess hall, he said.

The commissioner praised the loyalty and valor of the guards, the state police and Deputy Commissionner Paul D. McGinnis. McHugh said McGinnis "actively participated in the attack which brought about the surrender of the inmates."

McHUGH RACED 100 miles by automobile to the institution the night of the revolt from Canton, where he was attending a conference on juvenile delinquency. Shortly after arrival, he delivered an ultimatum to the rebels to return to their cells within five minutes. They did not comply and the battle followed.

The commissioner said he felt there was some deficiency in equipment available to handle disturbances. He said additional weapons and portable lighting equipment were needed. He said a survey would be made to determine other equipment necessary.

10 Spans Out

Sullivan county was completely washed away for a distance of 600 feet to a depth of 10 feet. This washout extended deep into a field alongside the road. Much of the fill has been completed by the county employees with the assistance of Army Engineers. Green pointed out that his county equipment had been augmented by great numbers of "dozers" sent in by the Engineers. He had one "dozer" on the job and the Corps of Army Engineers sent in eight more.

In Shawangunk he reported one bridge destroyed with the abutments but he recommended construction of about a quarter mile of new road across a field to connect with an existing town road and the elimination of the old route and the destroyed bridge. He said this new alignment would serve the residents. On the Peterskill near Crawford $10,000 damage had been done to a county road built this year and in addition the water had done great damage to private property in the area.

Rosendale also suffered too. The Coxing Creek bridge adjacent to Route 213 has tipped over but can be salvaged and repaired.

IN HURLEY he reported several culverts damaged and one which will have to be replaced by a short concrete bridge.

In numerous places portions of pavement have been washed away, ditches clogged and roads damaged. Many culverts on county roads have been lost and will have to be replaced.

Green said the Corps of Engineers was prepared to construct bridges in the form of temporary structures and Bailey bridges can be thrown up quickly and will be usable for a period of time. He praised the work of the Corps of Engineers and said they were doing an excellent job of temporary repairs. How much of the work could be accomplished by the engineers, he said it was too early to say.

MANY CREEKS will have to be cleared of snags and debris and this work the engineers are prepared to do. Rip-rap is being installed in places to resist further washouts.

Green said he could give no accurate estimate of the damage done or the need for emergency appropriations until it was ascertained how much of the work would be done by the Corps of Engineers, meanwhile he said he held to the estimate of $600,000 to $700,000 damage cost.

Supervisor Eckert of Esopus, after receipt of the report, offered a resolution commending Green and his staff for its diligent work and also commending the fire departments of Ellenville, Wawarsing, Rosendale, Accord and others for their work in rescue and also the follow-up period in which they worked around the clock pumping out flooded homes. Civil defense workers, civilian population, Sheriff Cluett Schantz and his men and Harry L. Edinger of the County Health Department and his men who worked on sanitary precautions also came in for commendation in the resolution. Supervisor Turck of the Fourth Ward and others seconded the resolution which was unanimously approved.

SUPERVISOR Sprague of Wawarsing offered a resolution asking for a special appropriation of $4,000 to eliminate a pond in Napanoch which threatens residents in the village with flooded cellars. Sprague explained that there had collected a large quantity of water off old Route 209 in the village, cellars were flooded and water had no way to run off. He asked a special appropriation for the work, to be used if the Corps of Engineers do not eliminate the situation. He said he expected they would but it was a matter of emergency, health and immediate action. His town hard hit by flood damage was unable to find money for the job and he said it was imperative the situation be eliminated within the next few days for health reasons. The appropriation was authorized after the Democratic members had asked for a recess in which to confer. The vote was unanimous.

A communication was received from the Motorola Company asking that they be permitted to bid on installation of equipment in the event the county decided to put in a two way radio system for volunteer fire company use. Referred to the committee on two-way radio.

A COMMUNICATION also was received from the New York State Division of Safety asking that the board give consideration to appointment of a County Fire Co-ordinator. Arthur C. Chipp, Kerhonkson, county coordinator resigned some time ago and a successor had not been appointed. Referred to Fire Advisory Board committee for recommendation.

A petition signed by 16 residents of the Mountain Rest road was received asking that the road be repaired. Referred to the acting county superintendent.

A communication was received from the Civil Service Association saying the association advocated a 40-hour week for nurses at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital. Referred to Salary Study committee.

Supervisor Sprague of Wawarsing after the meeting informed a Freeman reporter that the pond he had referred to and which was a real health menace to the residents of Napanoch and to the water supplies in the village, extended for some 100 yards to the west of the old alignment of Route 209 in the village and was at least 150 feet wide. He said sewage drained into the pond and there was a distinct odor. He feared the water would contaminate wells in the area. Napanoch firemen had attempted to pump the water out but had made no headway, the water coming in faster than it could be removed.

PRIOR TO adjournment Supervisor Eckert reported that Majority Leader Jesse McHugh of Wallkill, who has been ill, was recovering nicely and the board expressed its hope for a "speedy recovery."

Present at the meeting was Supervisor Fred DuBois of New Paltz who was appointed to fill out the vacancy created by the death of Supervisor Frank G. Elliott.

At the prior meeting Supervisor Fitzsimmons was named to the Farm and Home Bureau Association committee to succeed Mr. Elliott, New Paltz, and Supervisor Stauble was named to succeed Supervisor Eber H. Coy, Plattekill, resigned. Both were removed from the committee by Chairman Relyea and in their places Fred DuBois of New Paltz and Supervisor Gerow Wilkin of Plattekill were named.

Labor Party Showdown For Leadership Seen

London, Aug. 27 (AP)—A showdown fight that could determine who will lead Britain's ailing Labor Party, shaped up today as Leftwing Aneurin Bevan sought to unseat Moderate Hugh Taitskell for the post of party treasurer.

The two political rivals were both nominated for the post now held by Gaitskell—leaving the final choice up to the party's annual conference at Margate Oct. 10-14.

Gaitskell who trounced Bevan for the post last year, was a heavy favorite again this time. Delegates of the larger trade unions control the party conference and most of these unions are believed behind Gaitskell.

The treasurership carries with it a seat on the party's national executive committee. Through it both men hope to win the big plum—leadership of the Socialist Party now held by aged, ailing Clement Attlee.

The 72-year-old Attlee who recently suffered a cerebral thrombosis (blood clot on the brain) may retire soon.

of Kingston, Dr. Hargrave said.

THE SECOND is an eight-year-old boy residing in the southwest portion of the county. The third is a 15-year-old girl, also a resident of the southwest portion of the county.

One of the two non-paralytic cases received a shot of Salk vaccine in May, Dr. Hargrave said. He explained that the fact this child received one shot of the vaccine might account for the lack of paralysis.

All intimate contacts of the three children have been given gamma globulin, he said.

Adenauer Strategy

Bonn, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano today reported to Socialist opposition leader Erich Ollenhauer on the strategy for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's visit to Moscow. Ollenhauer cut short his Bavarian vacation for the pre-Moscow talks that will be held by West German political and government leaders before Adenauer leaves on Sept. 8 for the Soviet Union. Aside from the preparations for Adenauer's trip, they discussed whether the Socialists would accept a possible invitation to take part in the Moscow discussions.

Troops Dispatched

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 27 (AP)—Troops were dispatched to key points in Chile today as the government clamped a state of emergency on two provinces to avert trouble in the crippling strike of 50,000 government workers. Gen. Horacio Gamboa, chief of the capital's garrison, posted 15,000 soldiers in Santiago and sent armed units into the interior as the provinces of Santiago and Concepcion were placed on an emergency alert.

Koreans Continue Actions Against Red Truce Teams

Seoul, Aug. 27 (AP) — Some 3,000 Korean housewives and schoolgirls today marched past the American Embassy as part of continuing demonstrations against communist truce inspectors.

They shouted "Communist spies get out of Korea" and carried banners bearing the same slogan.

Groups of 100 to 200 demonstrators continued their three-week old Korean campaigns against the inspection teams in Kangnung and Pusan. There were no demonstrations in Inchon and Taegu.

An 8th Army spokesman said the demonstrators were "very quiet and there was no violence."

Police Alerted Prior To Three-Power Talks

Nicosia, Cyprus, Aug. 27 (AP) — Police kept watchful guard today for signs of trouble as the time neared for three-power talks on the future of disputed Cyprus.

Turkey has warned Britain that disturbances might break out on the jittery isle Sunday —eve of the London talks between the foreign ministers of Britain, Turkey and Greece.

Authorities here believed violence is unlikely, but they have set up precautionary road blocks and reinforced the troops.

Some 400,000 islanders of Greek origin have been agitating for union with Greece, while the 100,000 Cypriots of Turkish descent want Cyprus to stay a British crown colony.

Recruiting Tripled

Heidelberg, Germany, Aug. 27 (AP)—The U. S. Army in Europe reported today that recruiting in the first seven months of this year nearly tripled that of the same period last year. The army attributed the increase to a recent pay raise, re-enlistment benefits of its new rotation system, Operation Gyroscope. Army headquarters here said 9,120 service men enlisted, re-enlisted or extended their service terms through July, compared with 3,153 in the first seven months of 1954.

'Blackboard Jungle' Out of Film Festival

Venice, Italy, Aug. 27 (AP)—"The Blackboard Jungle," a realistic American movie portraying young hoodlums in revolt against high school authority, has been withdrawn from the Venice International Film Festival.

The action was taken last night by the American festival delegation and immediately kicked up a protest in Hollywood.

The U. S. delegation said it would substitute "Interrupted Melody" for "Blackboard Jungle" in the film competition. No official reason was given, but one member of the delegation said the action was taken because the movie gave an "unflattering and unrealisic view of American school life."
